200 SPITFIRES BLAST AT NAZIS

LONDON (AP)—Two hundred Spitfire fighter planes made a daring low-level attack early tonight on German troops along a 200-mile front from the Cherbourg peninsula to Etaples, the Air Ministry news service announced.

Prairie Premiers East

OTTAWA (CP)—The premiers of the three prairie provinces, accompanied by provincial ministers, met members of the federal cabinet today and started discussions covering "general debt questions" and other matters.

Would Use Japs

OTTAWA (CP)—Labor Minister Mitchell told a Dominion provincial butter conference here today that he believes Japanese being moved from British Columbia could be used to relieve Canada's farm labor shortage.

Asks Tariff Cuts

OTTAWA (CP)—Demand for an early start by Canada on a tariff reduction policy was made in the Commons this afternoon by Gordon Ross, Liberal, Moose Jaw, as the House in committee of the whole resumed consideration of the budget resolutions.

New British Order

LONDON (CP)—The government's labor policy is aimed at establishment of post-war minimum wages for all forms of employment, Labor Minister Ernest Bevin told the annual meeting of the National Chamber of Trade today.

Italian Schools Close

BERLIN (From German Broadcasts, AP)—A dispatch from Milan today said next year's school term in Italy, beginning Oct. 1, would be interrupted from Dec. 15 to Feb. 15 in anticipation of lack of fuel to heat classrooms.

Labor Minister to Speak

WINNIPEG (CP)—R. G. Anderson, secretary of the Winnipeg Trades and Labor Council, announced today that Labor Minister Mitchell and E. M. Little, director of national selective service, have accepted invitations to be guest speakers at the 58th annual convention of the Trades and Labor Congress of Canada here Aug. 24-29.

G.O.C. Returns

VANCOUVER (CP)—Lt. Gen. Kenneth Stuart, army chief of staff and temporary commander of the Pacific coast area, was in Vancouver today for staff conferences with high military officers. He has just returned from Ottawa. "At the moment I have nothing to offer of any news value," he said.

Hold Drew Letter

OTTAWA (CP)—Prime Minister Mackenzie King announced in the House of Commons today that tabling of Lt. Col. George A. Drew's letter on the Hongkong report had been postponed until 8 p.m. E.D.T. (5 p.m. P.D.T.).

Kill 5 Frenchmen

LONDON (CP)—The German-controlled Brussels radio reported tonight that five Frenchmen had been sentenced to death at Lille for killing a German soldier.

Hints Wage Control

WASHINGTON (AP)—U.S. price administrator Leon Henderson told a congressional committee today the price control program is in danger of breaking down and warned that wage control is "the next thing over the horizon."

BUTTER INCREASE PLANS STUDIED

OTTAWA (CP)—A Dominion provincial conference on butter production today received for consideration the recommendations of a committee appointed at Tuesday's opening session to study means of increasing Canada's butter output.

The committee recommended periodical reviews should be made of the relationship between the price of butterfat and the general supply position of butter to determine whether the present 6-cent-a-pound subsidy is adequate. If adjustments were necessary, an additional subsidy should be applied.

The committee also suggested that there is unnecessary duplication in cream-trucking services, with a waste of labor, gasoline and rubber, and increased overhead costs to the dairy industry.

Other recommendations were that: Canadians should be urged to avoid waste of butter as a patriotic duty.

Dominion-provincial feed boards should assure adequate distribution of seedling rations to dairy farmers and emphasize the importance of pasture fertilization and management.

Arrest Victoria Businessmen On Charges of Conspiracy

On charges of conspiracy to defraud the government in connection with Provincial Police quartermaster stores, three Victoria businessmen were arrested today and police are awaiting to serve a warrant on a government employee.

Those arrested were: George Henry Hall, managing director of Hall & Co. Ltd., wholesale drygoods and manufacturers; Joseph A. Walsh, managing director of Wm. Cathcart Ltd., shoe merchants; J. G. Simpson, managing director of James Maynard Ltd., shoe merchants.

Warrant is waiting to be served on Leonard J. Simmons, quartermaster, Provincial Police. It is charged that Walsh between March 1, 1938, and Dec. 15, 1941, did unlawfully conspire, combine, confederate and agree together with William Cathcart Co. Ltd. and with other persons unknown . . . by presenting certain invoices for shoes and boots in which it was falsely alleged and represented that certain boots and shoes had been delivered to the Quartermaster Stores of the B.C. Police.

Simpson is similarly charged with conspiring with James Maynard Ltd. between Sept. 1, 1937, and Dec. 15, 1941.

Hall is charged with obtaining for Hall & Co. $2,400 by presenting an invoice for 200 pairs of breeches which were never delivered to the B.C. Police.

The arrests were made at noon today by Detectives F. Woodburn and Percy Richards of the city police force.

Decision of the Attorney-General's Department to prosecute followed a lengthy departmental enquiry conducted by W. H. M. Haldane as commissioner.

The inquiry, closed to the press, was conducted at Provincial Police headquarters here and in Vancouver. More than a score of Victorians were called to give testimony.

"It has been ascertained that the amount of the shortages is in the neighborhood of $26,000 and not the large sum which was rumored some time ago," an official of the Attorney-General's department said today.

In the absence in the north on police business of Attorney-General R. L. Maitland.

"The Attorney-General had counsel working on the case, which resulted in his instruction to take proceedings which have just been announced," the official added.

Spitzbergen Raid Leader Arrives

Headquarters 6th Div. Here, Maj.-Gen. Potts in Command

The man who organized and led the commando-raid on Spitzbergen in 1941, Maj.-Gen. A. E. Potts, arrived in Victoria today to establish headquarters of the Sixth Division at Work Point Barracks. He will have direct command of all military activities on Vancouver Island.

His command will embrace besides the Sixth Infantry Division of the Canadian army, some units of which are already here, all the fixed defences of the island.

With a jutting jaw and two impressive rows of medals ribbons to testify to his soldierly qualities and a quick smile and obvious concern for the welfare of his rank and file, Gen. Potts' record is in line with his personality.

SERVED WITH P.P.C.L.I.

Taking a post-graduate course at Cornell University at the outbreak of the last war, he enlisted in the P.P.C.L.I. in Montreal, and served overseas as a private until 1917, when he was commissioned as a lieutenant in the field.

At the conclusion of hostilities in 1918 he returned to Canada to take an appointment at the University of Saskatchewan College of Agriculture, simultaneously taking charge of the O.T.C. He was subsequently given command successively of the 21st and 19th Brigades, N.P.M.A.

IN FIRST CONTINGENT

On the outbreak of war he reverted to the rank of lieutenant-colonel, and was placed in charge of the Saskatoon Light Infantry, the battalion he took overseas with the first contingent. In July, 1940, he was given command of the 2nd Infantry Brigade and promoted to brigadier, his appointment as commander of the then newly-formed 6th Division, coming last May. He returned to Canada a little less than a month ago.

Gen. Potts said morale and spirit of Canadian troops in England is very high.

"There's no more boredom among the boys," he said. "They're very anxious to get into action and have got to the point of talking in terms of it as an early possibility. They'll be able to do it, too."

MARCHED BOOTS OFF

"We had two weeks of the most rigid battle training a little while ago. And to show you what shape the men are in, most of those who fell out on the march did so, not because they were fatigued, but because they'd literally marched the boots off their feet."

Gen. Potts said the people of England had taken Canadians to their hearts and had made them very welcome wherever they went.

Of his part in the Spitzbergen raid, he had little to say.

"Everything went according to plan; secrecy was tight, and as a result we had little opposition," he said. "Most of the story has already been told."

One effect of Gen. Potts' arrival here was the repopulation of much of Work Point Barracks.

Virtually deserted when M.D. 11 departed for Vancouver two weeks ago and with only a few officers on the staff of Pacific Command remaining, Work Point's offices once again are busy.

Gaming House Trial Opens

Prosecution of the first of 10 gaming house charges was completed in city police court today. The case was remanded until Thursday at the request of defence counsel, Stuart Henderson, to enable him to prepare his case.

Today's charge of being the operator of a common gaming house was against Albert Cole, Grand-Spot News Stand, 707 Yates Street.

Others facing similar charges are: Richard Watson Clark, Jacob Funk, Nicholas Hansen, Bertha Halberg, Lee Gan, Lee Dat, Willard Lougheed, Fred Richardson and Dexter Lewers.

Constable David J. Shand of the criminal investigation branch of the B.C. police, testified he had gone to the Grand Spot on June 22 and played a horse racing slot machine concealed behind a partition in the store. He said at one point he won and received money from an attendant.

Leonard E. Gower, city license inspector, said that Cole was the licensed proprietor of the Grand Spot, although he had not taken out a license since the beginning of the year.

Stuart Henderson asked for dismissal of the case on the grounds that there was no evidence that Cole was still the proprietor and no evidence that the machine had paid any money. He said a man gave out the money from his pocket and this claim in no way proved that the money was payment for winning on the machine. He was not upheld by Magistrate H. C. Hall.

LABOR SHORTAGE GROWS IN B.C.

VANCOUVER (CP)—J. H. McVety, regional superintendent of the Unemployment Insurance Commission, today said the labor shortage in British Columbia is "worse" than when Elliott M. Little, National Selective Service director, described it as the most serious in Canada last May.

$150 Fine for Hoarding

WINNIPEG (CP)—Convicted of hoarding groceries in violation of Wartime Prices and Trade Board regulations, Abraham C. De Fehr was fined $150 in city police court today, with the alternative of three months in jail. He was charged in court De Fehr had accumulated "enough groceries to stock a store."

Germans Strip Garrisons In France as Losses Soar

THE FIGHT FOR RUSSIA'S RIVERS AND RAILROADS—Important sideshow in the battle for Russia's Caucasus oil is the German campaign against her railroads and rivers to the north. Map shows how Nazis, now controlling the Dnieper River and many key railroads, threaten the Don and Volga areas and the rail lines over which flow aid from Russia's allies.

Associated Press

Locked in a great, consuming battle for which Germany is stripping reserve divisions from her garrisons in western Europe, the Russians reported today they have repulsed enemy attempts to encircle Voronezh, on the north flank of the Germans' Don Valley offensive.

Resistance to Hitler's 1942 drive, as symbolized by the defence of Voronezh, has so sapped the enemy's reserves that several divisions from Belgium and France have been reported put into the battle.

The official Russian announcement to that effect today was a tacit implication that the way is being opened in western Europe for creation of an Allied front.

London reported Russian pressure for a prompt invasion of the continent and one informant said all preparations for a full-fledged attack are being made. How soon was left unanswered. He said, however, that "the objective is a front, which will be permanent, not only a large hit-and-run raid."

Germans Foiled In Encirclement

The Germans, who more than a week ago were claiming Voronezh as theirs, actually were stopped by a spirited last-ditch defence at the outskirts, Russian dispatches said today in recounting the struggle for that anchor of the southern Russian army.

Since that clash, presumably some days ago, the Germans have attempted to encircle Voronezh, which is 300 miles south of Moscow, but have been repulsed on the north and rolled back on the south to the point where they crossed the Don River to get at the key city.

So long as Voronezh stands it remains a sharp flanking threat to the Germans' deepest penetration of Russia, a thrust which has carried beyond Boguchar, down the Don from the Voronezh sector, to within 200 miles of Stalingrad on the Volga.

Axis reports, unconfirmed, claimed another drive, farther south, has carried to within six miles of Rostov, at the mouth of the Don, gateway to the Caucasus.

Knock Out 35,000 In 10-Day Battle

While admitting territorial losses which constitute a threat to isolate the vital Caucasus and perhaps to force a general Russian withdrawal in the south to the line of the Volga River, Moscow said 35,000 of the enemy have been killed or wounded in a 10-day period in the Voronezh sector, an important point west of Voronezh was reported recaptured.

The Russians, Moscow reported today, having hurled back reinforced German detachments in one sector of this front in the Don Valley, are maintaining a stubborn defence in others after giving up more ground on the steps within the "Don River bend."

Germany's not-to-be-minimized gains in Russia have cost her a pretty price, the Russians said.

No Housing

City Loses Machine Shops, Shipbuilding Threatened

If members of the City Council do not desire to enter into an agreement with the government agency for construction of war-time houses here to provide for increase in the number of shipyard workers, the shipbuilding industry will be switched from Victoria to the mainland, R. W. Mayhew, M.P., today informed President J. V. Johnson of the Chamber of Commerce in a letter from Ottawa.

"The government is not going to force the city of Victoria to build ships if Victoria does not want to," said Mr. Mayhew.

He also confirmed Ottawa's cancellation, reported unofficially last week, of plans for construction of "the very large machine shop" which had been ordered for Victoria and which would have made possible establishment here of other industries. Cancellation was decided upon because of local conditions, in the remedying of which Wartime Housing Ltd. has unsuccessfully been seeking the co-operation of the City Council.

Mr. Johnson, after receiving Mr. Mayhew's letter, said that the big machine shop Victoria was to have, had is now being established on the mainland, where it will be the centre of a group of new dependent industries.

Wartime Housing officials today said Victoria was the first and only city in Canada to reject a Wartime Housing proposal and all that was involved in the way of new and expanding war industries.

Mr. Mayhew indicated that Ottawa will not go to the trouble of expropriating property near the shipyards in James Bay district for wartime housing, as the government is being petitioned for contracts from mainland communities which are "quite prepared to meet the general wishes of the government and where houses could be built without opposition."

With the fighting at a new peak of fury, the German 3rd motorized infantry division, which appeared in the battle line only Tuesday, was reported depleted and replaced by the new 168th motorized division after a single day of combat.

"The Germans are being forced to bring up reserves hurriedly from the rear to take the place of their units which have been put out of action," a communique said.

Mr. Mayhew's letter to Mr. Johnson follows:

House of Commons, Ottawa, July 9, 1942.

"Dear Mr. Johnson, "I received this morning your wire re war-time houses in Victoria. I notice by this wire that you have sent a similar one to the Hon. Mr. Howe, Minister of Munitions and Supply."

"I am advising the minister that he should use the authority that he has under the War Measures Act and go ahead with the building of the houses. I doubt very much if he will do that."

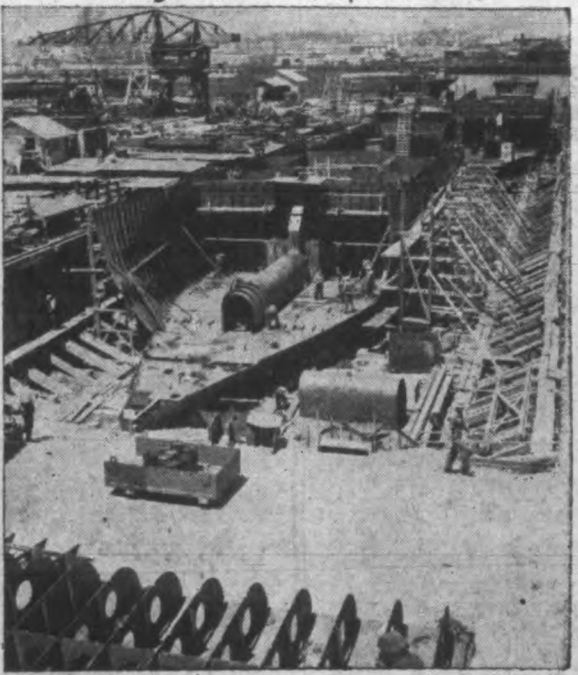

"There is still plenty of room for laying down berths at existing yards on the mainland, where they are quite prepared to meet the general wishes of the government and where houses could be built without opposition; and that is about what the government will do. The yards of Victoria will not be increased and the steel that is now available for Victoria will be given to the other yards."

"In other words, the government is not going to force the city of Victoria to build ships if Victoria does not want to, particularly when there are a number of locations that are petitioning the government, and, in fact, demanding that the government do some work of this kind in their cities. I cannot very well combat that argument."

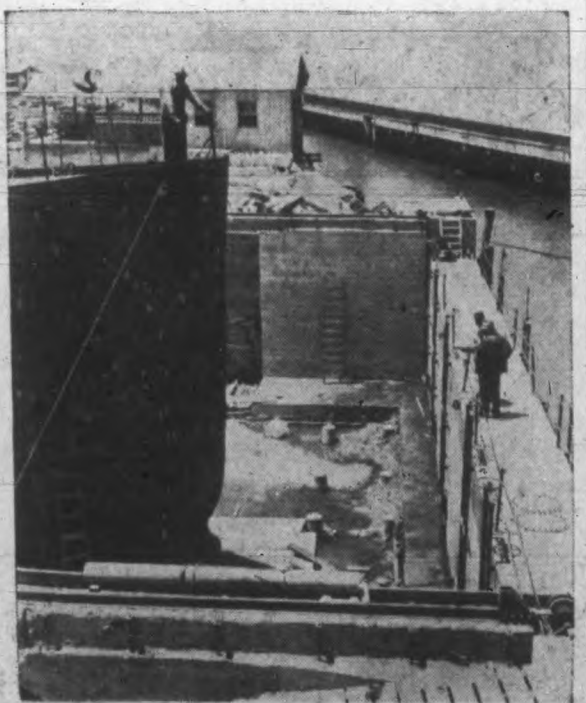

"Already the government has canceled the construction of a very large machine shop in Victoria—after having given instructions to go ahead with its erection—on the grounds that there is a shortage of labor for this purpose in Victoria. The shortage of labor is due entirely to the shortage of houses. His worship is no doubt doing what he thinks is best for the city of Victoria, and with his decisions I may not agree, but will have to govern myself accordingly."

"Yours truly, "R. W. MAYHEW."

Something New in Shipbuilding

At the Alameda, Calif., shipyard of the Pacific Bridge Co., something new in ship construction is taking place. Instead of building merchant vessels on ways and sliding them to sea, a hole is dug in the ground, ships are built in it, water poured into the hole and the ship is floated out. Here's a general view of the shipyard with a vessel under construction in its "bed."

This is the bow end of one of the holes in which the Pacific Bridge Co. is now building ships. When the vessel is completed, the locks at right are opened, water pours in and the new merchantman is floated into the stream for fitting.

House Debates Tax Refunds

OTTAWA (CP)—Government conditions on the return of excess profits tax refunds after the war were urged in the Commons Tuesday night.

C.C.F. members, supported by the New Democracy group and a sprinkling of Conservatives, urged the government should see the money returned was used for rehabilitation and not for dividends or bonuses, but an amendment moved by M. J. Coldwell, C.C.F. House leader, was defeated by 60 to 16 in committee of the whole.

The budget resolution introduced by Finance Minister Isley provides that all corporate profits will be taxed at least 40 per cent and when profits are increased more than 16% of the standard pre-war profits the whole of this excess is taken under the 100 per cent excess profits rate, with the 20 per cent refund provision operative.

Mr. Isley said there might be conditions during the first year or part of the second year after the war which would make it economically injurious to repay the money to companies.

Conservative House Leader Hanson said the government should not unduly withhold return of the money to the companies as it would represent an important factor in rehabilitation. He noted that two years was the maximum period for which the government could withhold repayment.

The House spent the day in committee of the whole, approving budget resolutions covering new taxation on candy, succession duty levies, the excess profits tax, and a 2 per cent tax on insurance premiums, the latter replacing a levy formerly imposed by the provinces. A start was made on customs tariff adjustments, and this study continued today.

CHANGING INCOME TAXATION

Possibility there may be important changes in the drastic income taxation imposed in the budget was seen in an interchange between Isley and Mr. Hanson at adjournment time.

Mr. Isley had informed the House that when the income tax change resolutions are taken up he would start with clause 10 which comes after the main changes in taxation rates and exemptions.

"What is that (clause 10)?" Mr. Hanson asked.

"There is no particular significance to that," Mr. Isley replied. "It is the ones before resolution 10 that are significant."

Mr. Hanson: "Are you still dithering with your conscience on those?"

"Exactly," Mr. Isley replied. "We are still having trouble, but we can take resolutions 10 to 26 and perhaps I shall be ready to go on with the ones before that by tomorrow afternoon."

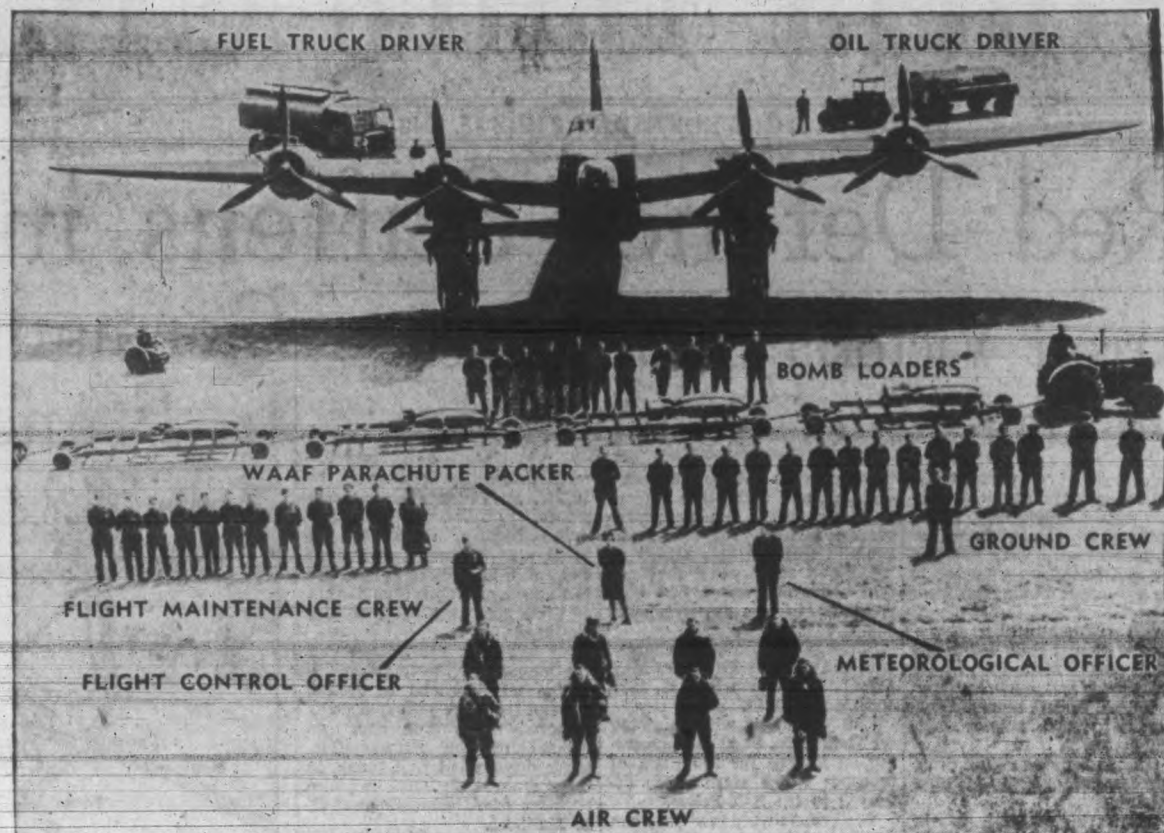

Esquimalt A.R.P. Siren Sounded Accidentally

Calls poured into civilian protection offices both in Esquimalt and the city following the accidental sounding of a short blast on an A.R.P. siren in Esquimalt at 10.15 this morning.

Staff-Sgt. G. A. Johnson, head of the Provincial Protection Committee's Victoria office, said the short blast on the siren was caused through an error while the circuit was being tested.

While Esquimalt residents close of the siren showed some anxiety, so far as could be learned work was not stopped in any plants, and the sounding of the siren disrupted no services.

Fighting Continues

New Axis Assault On Egypt Defences

CAIRO (AP)—An Axis attack on Tel el Elsa with tanks and infantry, the third successive enemy assault on the British-held height in Egypt's corridor battle zone, was launched at dusk Tuesday and lasted into the night, British headquarters announced today.

Again the R.A.F. played a major part in the fighting, destroying some Axis tanks and sending its medium bombers back "in force" against Tobruk Tuesday night, the bulletin said.

While the heavy clash of ground forces occurred in the north, on the coastal end of the line, patrols and columns found minor actions further inland in the central and southern sectors of the front between the Mediterranean and the Qattara depression some 70 miles west of Alexandria.

R.A.F. STILL HITTING

The communiqué did not indicate the outcome of any of these engagements but said the R.A.F. still was dealing the Axis heavy blows to their hard-to-replace mechanized and armored equipment.

"Our light bombers, fighter-bombers and fighters made large-scale attacks on enemy forces," said the general headquarters R.A.F. bulletin.

"Direct hits were scored on tanks and troop-carrying vehicles. In one attack on a convoy of 15, made up of armored cars, transport vehicles and one tank, all but one of the vehicles were destroyed."

"Other tanks were destroyed in further attacks during the day and at least four enemy aircraft were shot down by our fighters. Last night our medium bombers attacked Tobruk in force, starting a row of red fires which later merged into one big fire. In all these air thrusts, including defensive patrols over Malta in which three enemy raiders were shot down, the R.A.F. lost three planes, one of whose pilots landed safely.

LONDON (CP)—The Admiralty announced that British light forces destroyed an Axis tanker and damaged two escorting trawlers in the English Channel near the French port of Cherbourg this morning.

NORMANDIE TO BE RAISED

From Canadian Business

Secretary of Navy Frank Knox and Commander W. A. Sullivan informed President Roosevelt that the 83,423-ton liner Normandie was not irreparably damaged by her burning and capsizing on Feb. 8, 1942, and by the three other fires. The Navy has definitely decided to spend several million dollars and about one year of time to raise this $60,000,000 luxury liner. Following this announcement it was learned that a confidential report submitted to the Senate Naval Affairs Committee charges that an important factor in the present condition of the Normandie is due to the haste imposed on the contractor by the Navy Department's Bureau of Ships, "swivel chair admirals." In this report the Robins Dry Dock and Repair Company Inc. was blamed for the fire because of "gross carelessness and utter violation of rules and common sense" of its workmen.

Japs Mass Fleet In Home Waters

Associated Press

London sources voiced opinions today that the Japanese main fleet is concentrating in home waters and that a smashing German victory in Russia would precipitate a Japanese attack on Soviet Siberia.

Simultaneously, the Tokyo radio broadcast a report that Foreign Minister Shigenori Togo, speaking at Osaka, reported the Soviet government had assured Japan that Moscow's mutual assistance pact with Britain and her agreement with the United States contain no provisions regarding Japan.

Togo said relations between Japan and Russia continue to be governed by their 1941 neutrality treaty.

It was significant, perhaps, in the light of past Japanese actions, that Tokyo thus sought to reassure her Russian neighbor. A reassuring gesture by Japan may or may not mean a thing, depending on whether it accords with military strategy.

The Chinese long have insisted that an attack on Siberia is on the Axis agenda and have cited concentrations of Japanese forces in Manchukuo, as opposed to a relative quiescence elsewhere to prove their point.

Chinese Prepare Bigger Attacks

CHUNGKING (AP)—The Chinese announced today the loss of Wenchow, seaport in southern Chekiang province, but a spokesman pledged that with increasing air support the Chinese army will intensify its counterattacks and immobilize more Japanese troops in China than ever before.

"We will not allow Japan to transfer a single soldier out of this country to any other area," he said.

A communiqué confirmed the Japanese capture of Wenchow last Saturday night, but the spokesman said this did not mean Chinese forces had been trapped on the eastern side of the arc which the Japanese now have extended across Chekiang province from Hangchow to Wenchow.

The Japanese line in many places consists of thinly-manned garrisons between which Chinese forces are able to cross with comparative impunity, the spokesman said, while in Kiangsi, the next province to the west, the Japanese drive fanning out from Linchuan has "completely collapsed."

The spokesman said Juian, across a peninsula about 12 miles to the southwest of Wenchow and also a port at the head of Deep Bay, fell to the enemy Sunday.

The Japanese were said to have attacked because they feared Wenchow would be used as an Allied air or naval base.

Japanese operations near Fochow, in Fukien province to the south and the last remaining major port in Chinese possession, also arose from fears of its potential use by the United Nations, the spokesman said.

Although the Japanese have been ejected from Futou Island, near Fochow, the spokesman said they still held Lancchi Island.

The Japanese are reorganizing 20 brigades in China into full divisions, he said, and "this means the brigades will be given an offensive character."

Insist Allies Move Quickly

Russians Say Now Time For Opening Second Front

By DREW MIDDLETON

LONDON (AP)—Soviet Russia was reported by qualified London sources today to be pressing anew for the prompt opening of a second Allied European land front to divert the Nazi armies—pounding at the gates of the vital Caucasus.

These sources, who insisted on anonymity, pointed out the eventual peril that Japan might open a second front in Siberia to distract the harried Red army if the Nazis can set the stage for it.

A smashing victory for the Germans in the battle for the Caucasus approaches, they predicted, would be followed by a Japanese attack on Siberian Russia. Japan is said to have massed at least 24 divisions—about 300,000 men—in Manchukuo with air reinforcements from home.

August and September are the best months for campaigning in Siberia, according to these sources. They noted there are no signs of large-scale Japanese activity elsewhere on the Pacific front now.

Whatever the pros and cons, public sympathy for the reported renewed pleading of Soviet Ambassador Ivan Maisky was demonstrated in mass meeting last week-end at Glasgow and Liverpool which demanded both a new front and all aid for Russia.

Soviet strategists, whose names may not be mentioned, say they are not satisfied that the British air offensive, hampered lately by bad weather, is a heavy enough threat to divert German troops from the eastern front.

On the other hand, military sources here foresee a second front as more than just a big hit-and-run affair—one requiring exhaustive preparation. And they do not believe, they say, the situation in southern Russia has reached a point where an attempted invasion of the continent is essential to save Russia's armies from being overrun.

That does not mean they do not see "very grave possibilities" in the present Russian situation.

Although the Russians are being driven back, they said, there is no indication that any of the main Soviet armies has been broken or surrounded by the advancing Germans.

The conditions of the Red air force after more than a year of constant fighting is worrying experts here, who said they believed the effect of heavy German air reinforcements already was being felt on the battlefield.

Army in Britain Now Well Trained

The offensive training of a vast army in these islands, meanwhile, is progressing favorably, according to military sources who emphasize the Allied need not only for heavy shipping but for barges and tank-lighters for landing operations.

"All preparations for opening a second front are under way and the objective is a front which will be permanent, not only a large hit-and-run raid," said one informant who would not allow his name to be used.

"The type of operation now being done by the Commandos will be part of any major invasion scheme."

"There will be need for thousands of lighters and tank barges which would precede the movement of heavy materials to the invasion coast."

Allied training already has simulated invasion situations, with troops "assaulting" the British coast from the sea, and such manoeuvres ultimately will be carried out on a vast scale.

have to consider one or all of the following courses—rescinding the order which freezes farmers on the land, making married men liable to service, reviewing and canceling postponements granted to men in the age classes already called, calling men in medical categories lower than "A," calling men aged more than 40.

According to information now available none of these courses offers any prospect of a large number of men. "It is believed the military authorities are not keen on accepting men of more than 40 in the army."

Some 25,000 men in "B" medical category are on record as having been medically examined and rejected from the age groups so far combed over.

MARRIED MEN

When it comes to calling married men, only those married prior to July 15, 1940, can be counted, as all married since that date are treated as single men. There were about 1,000,000 married men between 20 and 45 registered in 1940 and of these it is estimated 100,000 might be fit and available for service.

The number of farmers who might be callable if the freezing order were rescinded cannot be estimated. If all the steps mentioned were taken it is not believed more than 250,000 men or enough for 10 more monthly calls at the present rate would be available.

After that, presumably the forces would have to look to an annual crop of about 100,000 youths who turn 20 each year for reinforcements.

FARMERS DEFERRED

Of these a considerable number will be farmers, automatically entitled to postponement of call, key workers in industry entitled to postponement on application and sole supports of families or otherwise entitled to postponement on compassionate grounds.

The August requisitioning of men for the army by the compulsory call route is for 25,000 men. Thus the new age classes now liable cannot be expected to provide more than enough for four monthly calls at that rate.

If more men are to be called it is believed the authorities will

UPPER LIMIT 40

The action of the government last week in making single men up to 40 years of age liable to compulsory service is construed by authorities as an indication the compulsory service law is scraping the bottom of the heap of eligible men for the army.

The latest proclamation also makes men aged 20 liable for service where formerly the minimum age for compulsory call was 21. The national registration of 1940 showed about 116,000 single men who now would be in the 35 to 40 age group and 101,000 who now would be 20.

Just how many of these men are still available for service can not be estimated. Some have enlisted voluntarily, some have died. On the basis of experience probably 60 per cent of the 35-40 men will be found medically unfit and perhaps 40 per cent of the 20-year-olds.

That leaves about 10,000 physically fit in the two groups.

4 Months' Total In New Age Classes

OTTAWA (CP)—Possibility was seen in informed quarters today that if and when the government moves to impose conscription for service overseas, most Canadians liable to be conscripted already will be in the army. Exceptions to this are those men who are not yet old enough for army service but who will probably reach service age before the end of the war.

An amendment to the National Resources Mobilization Act, now before Parliament, will empower the government to impose conscription for service overseas at any time by proclamation. Prime Minister Mackenzie King told the House of Commons a week ago that if it was decided to take this step, he would seek a vote of confidence by the House in the administration.

No Buses This Year For All-Sooke Day

A letter from the All-Sooke Day committee yesterday, asking the Chamber of Commerce to take part in the festivities July 29, was referred to J. Hamilton Harman.

Harold Husband reported that while the Vancouver Island Coach Lines last year took 800 passengers to the celebrations, no buses would be permitted by the transit controller this year.

During World War I airplane engines had to be overhauled every 50 hours. Today, because their vital parts are machined to within a few ten-thousandths of an inch, they can go 600 hours without repair.

No Negotiation Possible, Gandhi

By PRESTON GROVER

WARDHA, India (AP)—Mohandas K. Gandhi supplemented the new All-India Congress Party resolution demanding Britain's withdrawal from rule of India, with the emphatic declaration today that there can be no further negotiation.

To reporters, Gandhi conceded that violence might result from the resolution.

"I don't want rioting or anything of that sort as a direct result of these measures," declared the wizened little Indian leader. "If rioting takes place I shall feel helpless."

The resolution must be ratified by the All-India Congress committee, which has been called to meet at Bombay, Aug. 8. Never in the history of the party has an important decision of the 15-man working committee been over-ruled by the 350 members of the general committee.

HUMAN BEINGS

Asked whether he expected Britain to "come to terms," Gandhi replied, "they are human beings, and I am never in despair of the possibility of human beings making an upward growth."

It was stated the resolution does not intend that Britons be banished physically from Indian territory, that the United Nations be handicapped by fighting the Axis, or that the way be paved for aggression against India.

Gandhi said the movement, led by him and backed by the Congress, would be "a mass movement of the widest possible scale," but that he was not court-jailing imprisonment—"that is too soft."

"If I am dragged into jail," he said, "it is difficult to know what may happen. I can fast, I have before. But I hope to avoid such steps."

After a grant of independence, Gandhi declared, "all things are possible... if Britain withdraws in perfect good will, the change will be effected without the slightest disturbance. Wise men will come together, incredible as it may seem, to form a creditable government."

Ships and Houses

INTO FOURTEEN WORDS IN THE
House of Commons yesterday afternoon, Hon. Humphrey Mitchell, Minister of Labor, compressed the duty of the five-man commission appointed to investigate the production of British Columbia's shipyards: "How to build the utmost possible number of ships in the shortest possible time."

Over this inquiring body Mr. Justice Richards of Winnipeg will preside, and the rest of its personnel will comprise two representatives of the workers and two shipyard managers. The specific terms of the reference to which the commission will address itself read as follows:

"1. To examine into the operation of the plan of continuous operation now in effect and to give due consideration to the substitute plan submitted by the deputations.
"2. To inquire into any factors now impeding production in the shipyards of British Columbia, and as to the most effective means of securing maximum production in such shipyards."

The substitute plan referred to in the first clause is one for the operation of the yards on a six-day basis—submitted the other day by representatives of the employees. Victoria is especially interested in the second part of the investigation because of its interdependent aspects.

This city's role as a builder of ships urgently needed by the United Nations hangs in the balance. The aldermanic board has not been able to register the requisite majority in favor of the acceptance of plans submitted by Wartime Housing Limited for the construction of 100 dwellings in the James Bay industrial area. Until the deadlock can be resolved, this community remains in an invidious position—exposing itself to the charge that "factors" existing here are "impeding production."

What seems to be lost sight of is the fact that the dwellings Wartime Housing Limited is waiting to build are munitions of war every bit as much as are the ships, the tanks, the planes and all the rest of the paraphernalia the United Nations require to fight the common enemy.

Hitler's Challenge To Us

UNDER THE IMPACT OF THE WAR'S emergency many familiar institutions have changed their customary guise. To this category now belongs what once was known as "the old sock"—that homely emblem of thrift which has played its part in and bolstered many a family economy. Some potent points made by Mr. G. W. Spinney, chairman of the National War Financing Committee, while in Victoria the other day, reminded us of the manner in which Canadians in all walks of life must come to the aid of the Dominion's war economy by saving at the rate of $30 per head, not in "the old sock," but through the medium of its modern counterpart—War Savings Certificates.

One or two figures mentioned by Mr. Spinney are worth careful consideration: Our national income in 1942 will amount to $6,500,000,000 compared with $3,300,000,000 in 1936; from this increase the government has been able to raise $800,000,000 in direct taxation—leaving approximately $5,000,000,000 for the Canadian people to spend after taking into account a few invisible taxes. As Mr. Spinney properly argues, "these are dizzy figures," but they should convince every intelligent Canadian that sufficient margin exists from which to subtract the $1,800,000,000—or $30 per capita—that the National War Financing Committee has set as its objective. And let it not be forgotten that the chartered banks of Canada have in their keeping at the present time no less a sum than $1,500,000,000 in idle savings deposits—earning for its owners about one-half of the interest it could earn in the service of a nation urgently requiring every cent it can borrow to defeat Hitler.

No apology is necessary for the employment here of another homely phrase: We must get tough with ourselves as well as with the enemy. Two fights confront us—to quote Mr. Spinney again—that against the Axis and the other against the spectre of inflation with all its cataclysmic effects on those in the smaller income brackets. Both these battles must be won. Not all can buy $30 worth of certificates this year; there are nevertheless a sufficient number of Canadians who can make up the difference. Hitler has challenged us; never let it be said that we could not meet it.

Will Japan Attack Russia?

FROM CHINESE AS WELL AS FROM other sources reports persist that heavy concentrations of Japanese troops are being carried out near the Russian maritime provinces of Asia. Whether these movements foreshadow an early attack on the Soviet Union, at a time when the Nazi Wehrmacht may appear to have scored a major victory on the southern end of the elongated eastern front, or whether the men of Tokyo will go just as far as they think they legitimately can without disturbing the nonaggression pact into which the two nations entered in Moscow in April of last year, only the progress of events will reveal.

At the same time, it should be noted that Japanese opinion, not excluding the most militaristically minded, has inclined to frown upon any course of action that would cause an open rift with Russia. The attack on Tokyo and other Nipponese cities by United States bombers gave the war lords a more severe jolt than is generally understood. But there has been a little more in the apparent official hesitancy to break with Moscow than this; and it may throw some light on the pinches which Japan's economic structure has felt in recent months. One school of thought in the Nipponese capital had nursed the idea that Japan and Russia could negotiate a useful agreement with respect to China—a species of reciprocal trading arrangements that would be beneficial to both and insure peace. Who says the Oriental totalitarians are not naive? But Generalissimo Chiang Kai-shek has no intention of removing any of the characters from the Oriental drama—save Japan.

The events of the last few weeks, however, particularly in Russia and North Africa, have evidently brought about some change in the Japanese military and economic points of view. Advices which have the ring of authority in them suggest that, after all, Tokyo is now preparing to open a second front for Hitler by an attack on Russia at the psychological moment. Japanese establishment of bases on the Aleutian Islands obviously had for its object the disruption of the convoy route from the neighboring Republic to Asiatic Russia. Destruction of air fields in China that would have been valuable to the United Nations for attacking Japan proper likewise may have a bearing on the troop concentrations in Manchuria. Time will tell.

More Parables

ONE OF THESE DAYS IT MAY BE POSSIBLE for the average individual to fathom the lucubrations of the working committee of the All-India Congress Party. The latest pronouncement from this august body informs the world that after more than a week's convalesce it has adopted a resolution proposing the withdrawal of British rule from India. But the terms of the document are nothing if not unique; they stipulate that the committee does not desire to embarrass Britain or the Allied powers in the prosecution of the war, or in any way to encourage aggression against India, or pressure on China by Japan or any other Axis power. Nor is the plan intended to suggest the "physical withdrawal of everything British from India."

After the display of political feeling in India which the mission of Sir Stafford Cripps last spring succeeded in emphasizing it would be interesting if some honest-to-goodness 100 per cent Indian patriot who is more realist than doctrinaire would explain to the world for how many of India's 389,000,000 souls the Congress really speaks. All fair-minded folk realize what a blessing it would be if the great sub-continent's aspirations could be equitably satisfied—satisfied in a way that would rescue the poverty-stricken and illiterate masses from political exploitation at home and protect them from a ruthless enemy who gleefully rubs his hands as he notes the passage of resolutions promising nonviolent nonco-operative "rebellion."

The British proposal which Sir Stafford Cripps took to India last March obviously fell short of what the political leaders of the various parties hoped for. But it had the effect of placing some of the more irreconcilable elements on the defensive, to some extent, at any rate. And if Mr. Gandhi, as the "spiritual" head of the All-India Congress, really is in no mood to "encourage aggression"—or to incite "pressure" on China—he would, even at this late hour, assist the "physical" presence of "everything British" in India to become a much more effective offensive agency against the enemies of his own country and others that desire to preserve their freedom, than it is at present.

'Herr' Laval On the Spot

VICHY HAS REJECTED TWO PRO-posals offered by Mr. Roosevelt for the disposition of nine French warships at present harmlessly idle at the British Mediterranean naval base of Alexandria. One suggests that these vessels be removed to an American or neutral port and returned to France after the war. This not being acceptable, a second plan advocated their passage to Martinique, there to join other immobilized French naval craft. But "Herr" Laval would have nothing to do with this. Vichy now knows that the United States government will approve any action Britain may take in view of the circumstances at present obtaining at the eastern end of the Mediterranean.

In the matter of these French warships, as in other matters since he became "chief of government" at Vichy, Laval has jumped through the hoop each time Hitler has cracked the whip. His "I-desire-Germany's-victory" proclamation has removed any lingering doubts about the policy he has set for himself and the little Quislings whom he has drafted into his traitorous gang. Naturally this man who is selling his country bit by bit would like a good excuse to turn over to the Axis those ships of the French navy now stationed at Toulon or in other ports which Vichy controls. Action by Britain at Alexandria, however, may suit his purpose—always assuming that anti-British Admiral Darlan could be persuaded to surrender his authority over the French navy to "Herr" Laval's masters in Berlin. That would mean a blow from which Darlan's vanity would recoil.

The rain falls on the just and unjust—especially on the just-pressed suit.

BASTILLE

THIS WEEK, ON JULY 14, the world marked the anniversary of the fall of the Bastille. It was one of the largest events in modern history, for it represented the end of the feudal age in Europe. The results of the Revolution were incalculable as those of the Russian Revolution are now proving.

A great many nice things have been said and written this week about France; about its fierce instinct of freedom; its hatred of the man-on-horseback; its sure return to the roll of the free nations. Yet there is something more complicated in the problem of France than all this pleasant oratory suggests. The trouble is that France has not learned how to make parliamentary democracy work.

Why this is I do not pretend to know, for my acquaintance with the French people has been a matter of weeks only. But the fact is plain enough—the parliamentary system has never functioned really well in France as it has functioned, for example, in Britain and, with rather less success, in the United States. Three times since the Revolution a major tyrant has thrown out the parliamentary system of France but it has never been in danger in Britain since King Charles' head was cut off nor in the United States since the Constitution was framed. There were two Napoleons in France and now Hitler, with his hired man, Laval. A parliamentary system which has three such lapses, not to mention other minor ones, in less than two centuries cannot be said to be very strong.

THE MISTAKE

THE FRENCH PEOPLE, one suspects, made the same mistake about the parliamentary system which many of our people are making now. It is the mistake of not trusting it far enough.

When I was in France in 1937 the Chamber of Deputies had reached a state of complete contempt in the public mind. You would have thought it was some foreign body, imposed on the nation from without, rather than an assembly of freely-elected Frenchmen. You would have thought it was the people's natural enemy, not its protector and friend. Under such conditions something fundamental was going to happen to France, whether there was a war or not. The war settled parliamentary government overnight, but it was dying anyway.

It was dying from the same cause which may kill our parliamentary system also if we are not careful. That cause is a total misconception of parliament's function, its powers and limitations. We tend to expect from parliament, as the French did, marvels which it cannot accomplish. We are impatient when it talks so much—ignoring the obvious fact that this is the only thing it can do, the thing which we pay it to do, the thing it must do if it is to exist at all.

We fail, in fact, to understand and accept the fundamental assumption of all parliamentary democracy—that the best decisions in the long run, the best policies for the nation, do not come out of the inspiration of some great leader but out of the long, tedious argument of ordinary men. If that assumption is unsound then our parliamentary democracy is unsound and we are crazy to be fighting the war. We might better let a seasoned, experienced and brilliant dictator like Hitler take over at once.

RESPECT

A GREAT MANY of our people do not accept or even understand this assumption and, consequently, they expect miracles from Parliament; expect anything but the only thing it can accomplish, which is the joint wisdom of the public. If we would only realize that this is all Parliament can do—represent accurately the will of the people as expressed in the best possible compromise—we might learn to respect it more. And if we do not learn to respect it more it will assuredly perish, since it depends entirely for nourishment upon us.

Apparently such a system is a very difficult thing to operate. It has seldom operated successfully except among English-speaking peoples. It is evidently a system peculiarly suited to our slow, easy-going and rather bumbling temperament. Other nations are too impatient to make it work or too ignorant.

We need not expect, therefore, that when the war is won all the victorious nations will instantly adopt parliamentary democracy and set up imitation Westminster. The parliamentary method may not suit them at all and may be far beyond the political capacity of peoples untrained in citizenship.

Yet it is difficult to see how democracy can be carried on permanently by any other system for, though governments may be set up truly representing public sentiment, how are they to be removed when they cease to represent it, without elections? And if governments are elected without parliaments to watch them, how are their acts ever to be watched by the people? How are the people ever to know when it is time to turn them out?

The secret of some men's success is a secret still.

Some folks drop in for a visit—others just visit for a drop.

It is not bad luck for a black cat to cross in front of an auto—if it succeeds in crossing all the way.

ON BAYONET TRAINING

From Canadian Military Journal

Dr. J. C. Martin of McGill questions the efficacy of bayonet practice in the training of our troops for war. As a toughening up process, without undue strain, nothing can surpass bayonet work. As a useful weapon of protection for the infantry soldier it is more efficacious than the revolver.

In raids, the bayonet, the knife and the bomb are the raiders' best means of offence. The Chinese, the Russians and the Americans at Bataan found the bayonet most efficient, to say nothing of the successful raids of our own commands.

Even the Russians have found the Cossack Cavalry a useful arm against Germany in the spring offensive and the Huns are offering their kingdom for horses.

To pin our faith nowadays on any one arm is liable to get us into trouble. Resiliency in training and use of weapons seems to be the best policy.

The Confederates and the Boers, two examples of undisciplined forces, which Dr. Martin puts up as the efficacy of undisciplined troops, are not we would say a happy choice. Both were defeated. Discipline as practiced in the Canadian army today, which is far removed from the days of Waterloo, will take the troops further along the grind than would every man for himself. A certain amount, not too much, of barrack square drill is necessary in the early stages of training for the first hardening up and coordination of nerve centres and muscle groups and for the making of the soldier one with his weapon and fellow soldier.

In a letter recently received from overseas an officer has this comment to make—"Battle drill is the cry, but what too few people realize is that battle drill is the final stage of well-disciplined troops. It isn't some god-given device to turn a civilian into a tough, seasoned fighter—oh—well!"

COASTWISE LAWS

From Canadian Business

For the duration of the war, certain coastwise laws of the United States were ordered waived by the Treasury Department to permit Canadian vessels to carry passengers and cargo between ports of British Columbia and the ports of Pacific coast states and Alaska.

WAR—25 YEARS AGO TODAY

By The Canadian Press

JULY 15, 1917—Political crisis developed in Russia over provisional government's Ukraine policy. Russians captured 36,500 men and 93 guns in 15 days' fighting in Galicia. French captured strong network of German positions in Champagne.

For the first time in the history of the human race there can be enough of everything to go round. Poverty is not inevitable any more.—Donald M. Nelson, chairman War Production Board.

DEWEY-WILLKIE STORY

From Walter Winchell

This story is being circulated: That about three months ago there was a meeting between Dewey and Willkie, at which Willkie said to Dewey: "I will support you for governor in 1942, if you will agree not to oppose me for President in 1944." To which Dewey allegedly answered: "No, I think I'm on top now and I might as well stay there." The fact: A close political adviser of Dewey's recently told Willkie: "If you will support Dewey for Governor we will guarantee that Dewey will remain Governor until 1946, and support you for President in 1944." To which Willkie said: "That offends both my moral and common sense."

Want More Ex-Nurses To Take Refresher For Emergency

About 15 former nurses who have been away from active nursing owing to marriage have registered to date for the refresher course, which is being arranged at the Royal Jubilee and St. Joseph's Hospitals for August 17 to 26. But it is hoped that many more will come forward to participate in this effort to ensure a reserve of qualified, fully trained nurses for Victoria and district in case of emergency.

The refresher course is being sponsored by Victoria Chapter, Registered Nurses' Association of British Columbia. Four hours of each day during the above period, with the exception of Saturday and Sunday, will be devoted to lectures and demonstrations covering the important fields of nursing, with special emphasis on newer developments.

As registration is limited, would-be entrants for this course should apply without delay and obtain further information by writing Miss D. R. Colquhoun, Royal Jubilee Hospital, or by calling at the teaching departments of St. Joseph's or Royal Jubilee Hospitals, or from the nurses' directory, 855 Vancouver Street, not later than July 30.

Horse-and-Buggy Wedding Party Has Cycle Escort

Escorted by officers mounted on horseback, a bride and groom entered a "surrey" after their wedding in Brandon, Man., recently and were followed by the wedding guests in phaetons, while the military guard of honor kept pace on bicycles.

The occasion was the marriage of Capt. Charles Wallace Otway Mayne, son of Mrs. Blair E. Mayne of Vancouver, and Edna Elizabeth Duane of New York City. The ceremony, which was held at St. Matthew's Pro-Cathedral, Brandon, with Padre H. P. Bays officiating, culminated a romance of one week. The bride met Capt. Mayne at a reception given in honor of her concert party. The groom is attached to A-4 artillery training centre in Manitoba.

Given in marriage by Col. S. E. English, officer commanding the artillery training centre, the bride was wearing a beige wool crepe dressmaker suit with matching wide-brimmed hat and a corsage of orchids. Nursing Sister Marjorie Alexander, garbed in the blue uniform of a nursing sister of the Army Medical Corps, was the bride's only attendant and Capt. Harry Thorne was best man. Ushers were Lieut. E. C. McLean and Lieut. J. G. Morgan.

A reception followed in the officers' mess and later Capt. and Mrs. Mayne left to spend a few days in Winnipeg. They will reside in Brandon.

Honor for Chinese Woman Doctor

A former St. Joseph's interne was the bridegroom in a wedding which took place last month at the home of Mr. and Mrs. Harry Kinneer, Toronto, Ontario, of Miss Josephine Clara Kennedy and Flying Officer James Durkin. Mrs. Durkin is the youngest daughter of Mr. and Mrs. J. N. Kennedy of Vancouver while the groom is the son of Mrs. J. T. Durkin and the late Mr. Durkin of Victoria. The bride is a graduate of the University of British Columbia, where she was very active in the Players' Club. Flying Officer Durkin graduated in medicine from the University of Alberta and after his internship at St. Joseph's Hospital, Victoria, joined the medical corps of the R.C.A.F. Dr. and Mrs. Durkin are at present residing in Toronto.

Social and Personal

Mrs. Marshall Doyle of Vancouver is visiting in Victoria with friends.

Miss Wendy Porritt, Moss Street, is visiting in Vancouver with her grandmother, Mrs. H. P. Willett.

Miss Ethel Ferris of Vancouver and Miss Jane Service of Kamloops are the guests of Miss Betty De Beck, Somass Drive.

Miss Dorothy Parsons, formerly of Victoria and now resident in Toronto, has been holidaying at the Guild of All Arts, at Scarborough, Ont.

Mrs. E. Marchant, Humboldt Street, after spending the last two months visiting in Ottawa with her son-in-law and daughter, Mr. and Mrs. C. W. Pineo, returned home this afternoon.

Mrs. H. A. Carney, Linden Avenue, went over to the mainland today to spend a couple of weeks with Mrs. A. Watson and Mrs. E. Boxall of Vancouver at their summer cottage.

Mrs. Winston McLuhan, Linden Avenue, and Miss Marguerite McLuhan, who have been spending a couple of weeks visiting in Banff, Edmonton and Calgary, have returned to Victoria.

Mrs. E. W. McCallum, Uplands, and Mrs. George A. Walton, Empress Hotel, have gone over to Vancouver to meet Mrs. McCallum's daughter, Mrs. F. G. Hardey of Regina, who will visit her mother and her grandfather Mr. W. B. Lanigan.

Lieut. and Mrs. Hoadley Mitchell, who have been visiting their respective parents, Mrs. A. K. Mitchell, "Bunera," Terrace Avenue, and Mr. and Mrs. Russell B. Horton, the Uplands, left at the week-end on their return to their home in California.

Mrs. K. Cameron and her young son arrived in Victoria last week from Macdonald, Man., on a visit to her mother, Mrs. A. G. Morry, Stanley Avenue. Mr. Cameron, who is with the R.C.A.F., stationed at Macdonald is at present taking a course at Lethbridge, Alta.

Nursing Sister Doris Bischlager, daughter of Rev. A. and Mrs. Bischlager, who left some time ago with a contingent of Canadian nurses for service with the S.A. Medical Services in Africa, has arrived safely at Johannesburg, according to a cable received yesterday.

Mrs. Arthur Luney has returned to her home on Hampshire Road after spending the last two weeks with her parents, Mr. and Mrs. G. Lindsay-Dixon, Denman Island. Petty Officer L. Lindsay-Dixon and Mr. Arthur Luney spent the week-end with Mr. and Mrs. Lindsay-Dixon.

Miss Jean Hunter of Victoria is spending a short holiday in Vancouver, where she is a guest at Sylvia Court.

Her fellow associates of the Hudson's Bay Company complimented Miss Ruth Shepherd, who is to marry Mr. David Hunter on July 23, at a miscellaneous shower Monday evening at the home of Miss Olive Cosgrove, 194 Obed Avenue. On her arrival the guest of honor was presented with a corsage bouquet of Sweetheart roses and sweet peas. The gifts were concealed in two containers prettily decorated in shades of mauve and placed beneath a mauve and white arch. Refreshments were served from a daintily-appointed table, centred with a bowl of roses and vases of purple and yellow pansies. The invited guests were Mesdames M. Rawlings, P. Cockburn, L. Hanford, R. Mason, G. Johnson, J. Cosgrove, A. Bushnell, and the Misses M. Allen, M. Lyle, M. Alexis, M. Belby, R. Young, E. Rose, B. Talbot, M. Martin, M. Moore, G. McKerracher, R. Rawlings, K. Conroy, H. Humber, P. Campbell, M. Dickinson, A. Meagher, E. Andrews, E. Keiller, E. Cooper, F. Jasper and S. Johnson.

Altitude Makes Difference
An automobile driver at sea level gets about three miles a gallon more out of his gasoline than the man who lives at a 10,000-foot elevation.

Guests at Qualicum Beach Hotel include: Messrs. Frank Morris and Frank Emory, Mr. and Mrs. G. J. Scott, Victoria; Mr. and Mrs. R. M. Martin, Vancouver; Miss A. Williams and Miss M. NEW TEA CARS FOR ICELAND

So important has the tea car become to army officials as an essential piece of equipment in upholding the morale and physical well-being of the armed forces, that British army authorities recently released four army-type three-ton Bedford chassis to the Y.M.C.A. for the construction of mobile tea cars, which have been specially designed for service in Iceland.

The army recognized that there was need for a type of tea car that could accompany army vehicles wherever they might go, and over whatever type of terrain they might encounter. The new cars built by the Y.M.C.A. on the chassis of army trucks are a logical development in tea car evolution.

CERTO gives SURE RESULTS in Jam and Jelly Making

As Easy For the Beginner as For the Expert

Short Boil—For jam you need give only one to two-minute full, rolling boil; for jelly a half-minute to a minute.

More Jam or Jelly—Very little juice has time to boil away, so you get up to two-thirds more jam or jelly from the same amount of fruit.

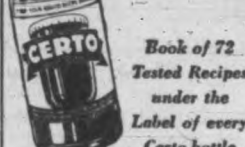

Natural Taste—Fresh Color—In the short Certo boil the fresh taste and color of the fruit remain unspoiled in your jam or jelly.

Sure Results—Follow the recipe for the particular fruit you are using and you'll have jam or jelly to be proud of.

CERTO is Pectin Extracted from Fruit

When pectin is used in making jam and jelly, the Wartime Prices and Trade Board Order No. 150 allows you to use sugar not in excess of one and one-quarter pounds of sugar for each pound of fruit. On the basis that "fruit" means "unprepared" fruit, this allows you to make your jams and jellies the Certo way which gives you approximately two-thirds more jam or jelly from the same amount of fruit.

Women Police Urged For Vancouver to Combat Delinquency

VANCOUVER — Formation of a "women's protective division" in the city police department to combat increasing delinquency caused by the war among teenage boys and girls in Vancouver will be seriously considered by the Police Commission and police department heads.

A delegation from the women's protection committee of the Vancouver Council of Social Agencies Monday urged the police board to undertake gradual development of a corps of policewomen trained in social work.

Under the scheme approximately a dozen policewomen would make regular rounds among the downtown dance halls, bowling alleys and beer parlors to prevent any opportunity for immorality which the delegation charged is on the increase because of war conditions.

KEEP OUT OF COURT

In a brief the protection committee asserted that policewomen trained in social welfare could keep many offenders out of court and could refer their cases for "follow-up" work by welfare organizations.

It was argued women can deal more effectively with intimate situations which would inevitably be a part of their work, can obtain information from girls and women easier than men, and generally aid in suppression of vice.

Mrs. C. W. Mellish, committee chairman, asserted need for the corps is very great.

The brief emphasized that under war conditions there is a spirit of abandon and relaxation of the moral code, that concentration of armed forces in Vancouver and the fact teenage boys and girls are earning exceedingly high wages in war industries all combine to create a new and serious moral problem which can not be ignored.

MORE UNMARRIED MOTHERS

It reported last year there was a 27 per cent increase in the number of unmarried mothers referred to the Children's Aid Society, and that the Catholic Children's Aid Society reports a serious problem in connection with half-breed girls who have turned to prostitution as a means of livelihood.

Mayor Cornett, commission chairman, pointed out that Chief Constable Donald McKay is away on holidays, but that the possibility of a corps of policewomen soon would be thoroughly investigated by the chief in consultation with the deputy chief and other police leaders.

Women of the Moose, Victoria Chapter, with Mrs. D. Fairhurst presiding. The senior regent thanked the ritualistic chairman and escorts for their co-operation for the past year, and gave an interesting report on the conference held recently at Yakima. Victoria Chapter has the honor of having the most outstanding record of any chapter throughout Canada. All members were asked to attend the Moose birthday party Friday in the K. of P. Hall. Mrs. A. Spaven reported on her social service work and is collecting numerous articles for the Salvage Corps. Mrs. Groat reported on the raffle of the quilt. The audit report was read by H. Francis. Two new members were balloted upon. Committee chairman for the coming year are: Child care, Mrs. A. McAllister; Alumni, Mrs. E. Cowden; library, Mrs. L. Wallace; membership, Mrs. C. Fair-service; publicity, Mrs. E. Sharpe; kitchen, Mrs. M. Henderson; Moosehaven, Mrs. D. Lineham. It was decided to continue the monthly dances, with bingo in charge of R. Williams and L. Moulton. Funway Feature Of Red Cross Gala

Mrs. Charles E. Wilson, convener for the Grand Garden Gala, which is being held at Government House grounds under the patronage of the Lieutenant-Governor and Mrs. W. C. Woodward, August 12, announces that the midway will this year rival in amusement and entertainment those of the national fairs and exhibitions.

The organization and management of the midway has been taken over by the Victoria services clubs. Victorians know from past experience how adept these members are at staging a really good show. The clubs looking after the midway which they have called the Funway, are: Rotary, Kiwanis, Gyro, Elks, Kinsmen, Lions and the D.O.K.K.

Already more than 35 booths have been arranged or planned. The visitor will park his car when he enters the Funway and when he is ready to leave he will have realized that his car is no good anyway, and consequently will forget to call for them. The sky will be the limit and everything will go, from hot dog stands, caves of mystery, bingo, fairs, petits-cheveaux, crystal gazing, rifle galleries, house-houses and other games of skill, for which remarkably valuable prizes are being donated.

Realizing that they have a high reputation to sustain, the men of Victoria's service clubs are organizing to put on the best midway ever seen in Victoria at Government House on August 12.

Salt Spring Island

The Salt Spring Island Boy Scouts under Scoutmaster Arch-deacon G. H. Holmes, have concluded their annual camp at Vesuvius Bay.

The dance, organized by Ganges Chapter, I.O.G.E., in the Mahon Hall Friday evening, proved an unqualified success, over 300 being present and dancing to the music of the R.C.A.F. orchestra under Bandmaster Miscell.

The dance was under the convener-ship of Miss B. Kingsbury. The sum of $185 was cleared for the Chapter funds.

The Anglican Sunday school of the parish of Salt Spring Island, north end branch, held a picnic outing recently at Fernwood Beach, where swimming and games occupied the afternoon. The teachers, Mrs. J. Byron and Miss Cantrell, were assisted by Mrs. Welfare, Mrs. C. Sampson, Mrs. V. Bettie and Mrs. E. Howard.

Petty Officer J. C. Smith, R.C.N.V.R., is spending leave with his mother, Mrs. A. J. Smith, at Ganges Harbor.

Mrs. D. G. Crofton, with her son and daughter, John and Sylvia, have arrived on the island from Victoria and will spend a month or two at Harbor House, Ganges.

Mrs. W. L. Rogers, accompanied by her three children, has returned to her home at Ganges, after a visit to her sister and brother-in-law, Mr. and Mrs. A. Gardiner, in Victoria.

The Salt Spring Island branch W.A. met Friday, Mrs. G. H. Holmes presiding. The annual garden party will be held July 23 in the grounds of Formby House. An instructive W.A. quiz was conducted by Mrs. Holmes. The next regular meeting will be Sept. 11. Tea hostess was Mrs. F. Stacey.

The Catholic Ladies' Altar Guild held a garden party and sale at the home of Mrs. P. O'Connell, South Salt Spring Island. The home cooking and vegetable store was in charge of Mrs. G. St. Denis and Mrs. M. Gyves; needlework, Miss T. Akerman. Anna St. Denis was in charge of the Lucky Dip. Mrs. E. Brenton was tea convener, assisted by Jean St. Denis, T. Akerman and S. Gyves.

The quarterly meeting of South Salt Spring Island branch of the Red Cross Society was held at the home of Mr. and Mrs. A. Davis, Rev. Father E. M. Scheele presiding. A garden fête will be held in the grounds of W. J. L. Hamilton, Fulford Harbor, July 29, Miss B. Hamilton being responsible for all arrangements.

The unit will assist the Red Cross garden fête and sale in Victoria by sending contributions to the home produce stall there, Mrs. J. Bryant and Mrs. A. Hepburn undertaking to collect and dispatch these, and Mrs. A. Davis was tea hostess.

Mrs. Fred Warman and small daughter have returned to their home in Victoria, after a week's visit to Mr. and Mrs. R. C. Young, Ganges Harbor.

Mrs. Valerie Lowther and Lorna Stevens, both of the nursing staff at St. Joseph's Hospital, Victoria, are spending three weeks' holiday with their respective parents on Salt Spring Island.

Prior to 1750, England banned bathing in sea or river. Richard Russell, popular physician of the court of King George III, published a treatise on the use of salt water as a restorative of health in that year, and succeeded in having the ban lifted.

W.C.T.U. PIONEER DIES IN EAST

MONTREAL (CP)—Mrs. John Scott, well known for her campaigns to obtain the vote for women in Quebec province, died today in her 88th year.

A native of Glasgow, Mrs. Scott came to Canada in 1874. Her family settled in Scotstown, Que., where she formed the first branch of the Woman's Christian Temperance Union, the first women's organization to have a plank in its platform the vote for women.

The outbreak of war in 1914 found the Montreal suffrage association in the midst of an extensive campaign. Mrs. Scott was vice-president of the society when it decided to drop all suffrage work and devote its attention completely to aiding Canada's war effort.

With two sons at the front, Mrs. Scott did everything she could to aid the government of the day. She formed win-the-war societies in many parts of Quebec and in 1918 she was called to the women's war council meeting at Ottawa.

After the war, she resumed her activities in connection with getting the vote for women. During war years, women relatives of soldiers received the right to vote in federal elections and after the war, this was extended to all Canadian women.

Settle Controversy Over A.T.S. Salute

LONDON (CP)—A controversy about when and if members of the Auxiliary Territorial Service and the army should salute each other has been solved to the satisfaction of the commanding officer of a northeast depot, but it's certain his plan will not be adopted anywhere else in the country, judging by the reception it was given.

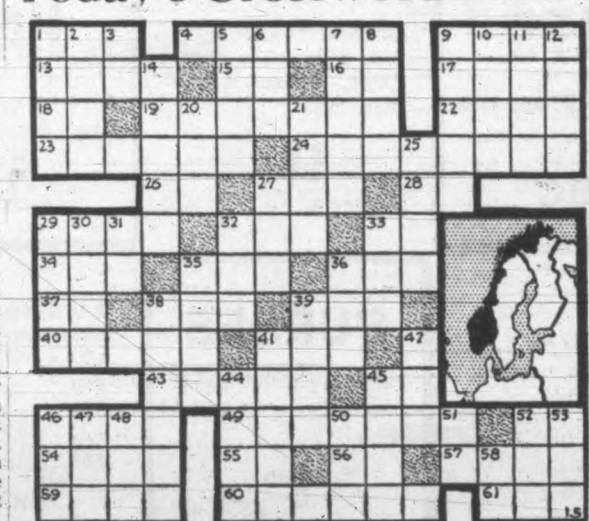

In an order to men and women in his command he decreed that soldiers must salute A.T.S. officers and A.T.S. other ranks must salute army officers when in barracks. Outside saluting is unnecessary.

Staff officers in the northern command, besieged by inquiries following publication of the order, hurriedly gave assurance that there had been no general order affecting the saluting of A.T.S. officers by soldiers. They added that the depot commander must have issued the order as a gesture of courtesy to the A.T.S.

Sightless Guests Back From Camp

Capt. M. C. Robinson, superintendent for western Canada for the Canadian Institute for the Blind, accompanied by Miss Constance Brown, supervisor, social service department of the Canadian National Institute for the Blind, paid a visit to Sunshine Camp Friday. Although this is the third season a group of sightless residents of Greater Victoria have enjoyed such a holiday, it was Capt. Robinson's first visit to Sunshine Camp. He arrived in the early afternoon and was met by Miss Dorothy G. Stark, local representative for the Canadian Institute for the Blind, and Mrs. Gwen Hughes, R.N., camp director and nurse. After a tour of inspection of the camp grounds and buildings, Capt. Robinson spent a happy time first on the beach and later on the veranda of the lodge, meeting and chatting with old acquaintances.

After enjoying supper with the campers he addressed them, stressing the fact that the facilities of the camp had been extended by the Family Welfare Association of Greater Victoria, and expressed his appreciation to this organization for making possible a vacation for so many sightless people. In his address he stated that this camp is unique in Canada, but he looked forward to the time when there will be similar camps, giving equal opportunities for the enjoyment of a holiday in the open to groups of sightless people in other parts of the Dominion.

The evening program consisted of clay modeling, contests and the reading of the camp newspaper. Capt. Robinson and Miss Brown joined in the games with enthusiasm. As they left camp to return to Victoria, the campers sang "For He's a Jolly Good Fellow," followed by three hearty cheers.

The sightless campers returned to Victoria Tuesday, when the first camp for mothers and children opened with the arrival of 14 mothers and 33 children.

Vichy Takes Over Jews' Businesses

VICHY (AP)—The Vichy government published a sweeping decree today taking over the management of all Jewish-controlled property and businesses, leases and rights in French colonies.

The edict came on the heels of a Gestapo order barring Jews from every public gathering place, indoors or outdoors, in the Nazi-occupied regions.

The German order was signed by the head of the Gestapo and Nazi storm troops in France instead of by the commander of the military occupation forces and contained provisions more severe than the anti-Jewish regulations in effect in Berlin.

Wartime Houses

Expropriate Says Commerce Board

Deciding it was time to "turn on the heat," the Victoria Chamber of Commerce at a director's meeting Tuesday night announced they had wired the Dominion government urging it to expropriate, if necessary, the land on which to build 100 wartime houses for shipworkers.

The telegram was sent last week and a reply was received by ordinary mail Monday, G. I. Warren, secretary, said. In the reply the Minister of Munitions and Supply acknowledged the telegram but did not comment on the suggestion.

The action was taken to break the deadlock between Wartime Housing Ltd. and the City Council which turned down June 30 by a single vote, the by-law endorsing the sale of James Bay lots to Wartime Housing. The by-law is due for reconsideration by the council.

Text of telegram sent by the Chamber of Commerce to the Minister of Munitions and Supply is as follows:

"Victoria Chamber of Commerce directors feel that the vote of eight to three by members of the City Council in favor of Wartime Housing Limited contract for building homes in Victoria for workmen in shipbuilding plants represents the feeling of the great majority of citizens of Victoria, and we respectfully ask that the Dominion government secure the speedy building of these houses even if it is necessary to carry on expropriation proceedings under War Measures Act. City Council agreed to proposal and three members of 11 now prevent its execution. Lack of these homes now interfering with necessary wartime work of building ships here. Similar telegram being sent to Mr. Pigott."

At the same time the Chamber of Commerce expressed concern that the government would not expropriate the land but would extend contracts to Vancouver shipbuilding companies and not renew contracts with Victoria firms. This contention was supported by R. W. Mayhew, Victoria M.P. in a letter to the directors.

The directors decided the only action which could be taken for the present was to send, in the form of a letter, a review of the negotiations and some details of the plans to all service clubs and organizations. It will be requested that the letter be read at club meetings.

J. V. Johnson said Victoria was the only city in Canada in which Wartime Housing had been forced to grant concessions before being permitted to build houses. He said the houses, if built to the plans now approved, would conform with the city building regulations.

"If they conform with the building regulations they (the City Council) have no right to ask houses be destroyed after the war," Mr. Johnson said. Mr. Johnson said there had been a misunderstanding between the dissenting aldermen and the Chamber of Commerce. He said he understood the council would "go all the way down the line" to get the houses, while the aldermen now maintain they had said they would "go all the way down the line" to get every third house stuccoed.

He said Wartime Housing had indicated there was no chance of every third house being stuccoed. He said he could not see why the city did not want to sell the property because no revenue had been realized on it since 1911.

"The eternal spirit of France mocks the efforts of the Nazi assassins and the Fascist ruffians," Ikkes declared in a speech at a Bastille Day mass meeting here sponsored by France Forever. "France's Calvary will come to an end—and sooner than the assassins think."

JEFFERSON QUOTED

Words written by Thomas Jefferson are as true today as they were 127 years ago, Ikkes asserted, quoting them as follows: "It is impossible that France should rest under her present oppressions and humiliations. She will rise in that gigantic strength which cannot be annihilated, and of rich and selfish men, a chain of powerful and unscrupulous newspapers, led by the New York, Chicago-Washington newspapers Axis, might fill the air with their shrill denunciations of the democratic leaders of America," he said.

"But they failed miserably, all of these conscious or unconscious tools of Hitler. Americans, with few exceptions, were true to the traditions of liberty and justice that had come down to them from both the American and French revolutions."

R.A.F. Day Raids On Points in France

LONDON (CP)—Fine weather for flying returned today and the R.A.F.'s fighters went to work again on Nazi installations on French soil across the Channel.

Several squadrons were assigned to morning operations. Strong formations of planes roared over Folkestone shortly before noon returning from the direction of Cap Gris Nez.

Adverse weather kept British bombers from raiding Germany Tuesday night.

Finance $1,000,000 Of Church Deficit

TORONTO—One million dollars of the $1,700,000 deficit of the United Church of Canada has now been underwritten. It was announced today by Dr. John J. Gibson, chairman of a committee appointed by General Council nearly two years ago.

A contribution of $1,700 from the Bermuda Presbytery of the United Church of Canada was the gift that sent the deficit campaign over the million dollar mark. The Bermuda Presbytery was observing the 60th anniversary of the founding of the Wesley United Church in that country.

Rev. Denzil G. Ridout, director of the deficit campaign, said today that every presbytery of the United Church of Canada is making special efforts between now and September in the hope that when General Council meets at Belleville it can be announced that the church deficit has been entirely underwritten.

The Young People's Unions of the United Church of Canada have put their strength behind the movement and are endeavoring to raise $250,000.

Mrs. G. Ernest Forbes, vice-chairman of the national committee, praised the loyal support given to this campaign by the United Church women in every province.

More than 30,000 individuals and church groups have already sent in contributions in the present drive for funds, Mr. Ridout said. Gifts came from places as distant as Northwest River in Labrador, the Queen Charlotte Islands, British Columbia, and Chungking, West China.

Look Magazine Features Victoria

Four pages of publicity with one full page picture and seven other pictures of Victoria and district are contained in the latest issue of the picture magazine Look.

Victoria and Island Publicity Bureau co-operated with Look's representative in securing a feature which will be circulated among 2,000,000 readers.

The article, titled "A Family Goes 'Abroad' for the Day" tells of a visit of a Seattle family to Victoria. The full page picture shows them in Thunderbird Park with their little daughter astride the 13-foot figure of a killer whale and the totem poles in the background. Another shows them talking to a Victoria "Bobbie," the policeman being Constable John Howe. Other pictures show them on the Puget Sound ferry and on San Juan Island. The good fishing and swimming gets a mention. Victoria is referred to as a very British city.

The article is one of a series designed to show how Americans, in line with wartime restrictions, can make best use of travel facilities and kinds of recreation often overlooked.

Coast Clear of Japs By Mid-November

VANCOUVER (CP)—Major A. H. L. Mellor, British Columbia Security Commission spokesman, announced here that all Japanese in every classification will be removed from Vancouver and coast defence areas by the end of October or mid-November.

He said Japanese housed at Hastings Park will be evacuated to interior areas by the end of September.

City inspectors will at once make a survey of Vancouver's "Little Tokyo" health, plumbing, electrical and structural standards with a view to its eventual use for housing white residents, as soon as the Japanese have been evacuated. Orders were given the inspectors Tuesday.

Ald. George Buscombe, chairman of the civic building committee, said the move was planned to meet the needs for housing accommodation for war workers and others.

The great lexicographer, Samuel Johnson, recognized only four natural elements—earth, air, fire, and water—and was wrong on all four.

Cardin Steadfast On Conscription

OTTAWA (CP)—Hon. P. J. A. Cardin, former Minister of Public Works and Transport, has reiterated that there is no change in his attitude opposing the government's amendment to the National Resources Mobilization Act to permit overseas conscription by proclamation.

Mr. Cardin resigned from the cabinet some weeks ago in protest against the amendment. Recently reports have been heard that he might re-enter the cabinet now that Prime Minister Mackenzie King has promised the house will have an opportunity to vote confidence or want of confidence in the government before conscription is enforced.

Mr. Cardin, however, put those reports to rest when he told the Canadian Press:

"I have not been invited to return to the cabinet; I do not intend to return; and my position is unchanged."

Care of Homeless New A.R.P. Task

The necessity of caring for the homeless during and after a bombing raid was emphasized by P.O. Hilton Smith when he addressed the Kiwanis Club Tuesday. Speaking from experience in England, he told of the pitiful sight of hundreds of homeless men, women and children, sitting in the ruins of their homes with nowhere to go and no help to receive.

"This is the greatest lesson we learned from the Battle of Britain," P.O. Smith said in speaking on "A.R.P. Under Fire, and Lessons Learned From the Battle of Britain."

"Another great lesson learned by the civil defence services," he continued, "is that fire causes more damage and destruction than do the high explosive bombs." According to the speaker, several large English cities were completely gutted by flames due to the lack of water supplies.

"The men and the equipment were there," he said, "but there was no water. They are better prepared now."

NOT MANY KILLED

Third in the greatest of lessons learned as a result of the blitzes was that a comparatively few number of people were killed in actual raids, and that there were many more homeless than were injured.

P.O. Hilton Smith is at present catering officer of the R.A.F. at Patricia Bay. He was the catering officer of the Borough of Deptford, Southeast London, during the London blitz, and his speech was based on actual experience and eye-witness.

Speaking of the severe raids on London, in the weeks following September, 1940, he told how the first 150 planes, of a mass of 500, had broken through the air defences of the city, and had razed the factories and docks of South-east London with their incendiary bombs and explosives. He praised the people highly for the courageous stand they took against the dangers and chaos.

"Everything came so suddenly," he continued, "that the people forgot about their fears, and started right in to help each other."

The term "A.R.P." is never used in England now, he stated. The expression, Civil Defence Services has taken its place.

CO-OPERATION NEEDED

"But no matter what the service is named," said the speaker, "co-operation is the keyword to its success."

Two objects which every A.R.P. organization should aim for were to plan a program whereby the homeless were attended to; and 100 per cent co-operation between each municipality and its adjacent areas established. This is the firm belief of the speaker. He told how the reserve units were often required to take over should the regular units be destroyed or shifted.

It was found in London that fixed first aid posts and canteens were exceptionally unsatisfactory.

Now there are large fleets of mobile canteens and travelling first aid posts which can travel to and from points under direct attack," he said.

Describing the operations of a civil defence unit, he told how a central operational quarter directed all work, and how these headquarters were in charge of all workers. During the raids municipal clerks acted as operational directors, apart from their usual duties.

As a result of damage done by flames of incendiary bombs, it was now compulsory to have fire watchers at every home and building in time of a raid.

"It took the Londoners many months to realize that fire was the greatest danger," the speaker said.

With a last remark on the courageous stand of the Britishers, P.O. Smith said of them—"The difficult can be done immediately; the impossible takes a little longer."

NEW GANGES CEMETERY

Provincial order-in-council this week set aside 2.75 acres of land at Ganges, Salt Spring Island, for use as a cemetery and also appointed the following cemetery board: Wm. Manson Mount, chairman; Bernhard Leonhard Kubbs, Wellington H. Miller, Walter Stevens and Wm. Henry A. Caldwell, honorary secretary-treasurer.

Conserve the vitamins in your food by correct cooking. When you cook vegetables use as little water as possible and don't overcook them. Save the water for soups and gravies. It contains valuable minerals and vitamins.

Plan your meals several days in advance so that you buy only what you need. Learn to use every leftover in appetizing and nutritious dishes.

Save on doctors' bills by making sure your family have their full quota of daily vitamins, including a citrus fruit, at least one pint of milk (a quart for each child) per day, 3 or 4 eggs per person per week, lots of fresh fruit and vegetables (preferably green leafy) and one helping of meat or fish a day, plus bread, cereals and dessert. That way you'll help build a sturdier nation.

LACROSSE NEWS hits the spotlight again. From the grapevine we hear about a proposed amalgamation between the James Bay and Douglas Tire squads. When Ted Menzies and Gus Munro, managers of the two teams, were questioned, they would not deny the rumor and Menzies went so far as to state he had written a letter to the league asking permission to combine the clubs. We understand Munro is favorable to the plan.

This latest move follows the refusal of the Jokers to amalgamate with the Douglas Tire. The idea of putting two of the teams together is to cut down the league roster to four clubs and reduce the playing nights for league games to two a week, leaving Saturday night open for exhibition engagements.

Combining the Bays and Douglas Tire would be a break for both clubs. The Bays have been hard up for players all season, while the same holds true in the case of the Tiresmen. Whether or not the league will agree to such a plan is another question. It is just possible the bosses will figure the scheme would give the defending champion Bays too strong a lineup and make them top-heavy favorites to repeat.

Highlight of the local boxla season will come Saturday night when the local all-stars tangle with Vancouver Wallace's. This idea of building up an all-star aggregation to represent this city in the Mann Cup playdowns is a good one providing the representative team gets plenty of practice. Anyone who has followed sport knows a team of all-stars never shows to great advantage unless the players are given a chance to work together and become used to each other's play. With a four-team league and a playing night available for exhibition tilts this would be possible.

There will be no horse shortage at Hastings Park from this point on to the finish, Labor Day. During the last three days four carloads of bang tails have arrived at the Vancouver plant from Winnipeg and Calgary. Heading the list of nags was Magnot Line, reigning champion of the Canadian three-year-old division.

Other well-known campaigners to unload included the vastly improved Sable Gift, Abydos, Ronico, La Gata, Killarney L., Naperton, Cooperstown, Teeworth, Toy Brook, Mabel I., Solomon Somers and Sweet Lavender. All told, nearly 100 unloaded. There should be no more of those six and seven-horse fields. It looks like those so-called "easy-races" will be missing. Just what kind of competition those prairie horses are going to offer was seen Saturday when Bob-Jack, Stolen Color and Witch's Taxi romped home in the win slots.

In happier days, Frank Kovacs, the Pagliacci of the net, was an amusing fellow. But the sobering effect of war has put the damper on his histrionics.

At the recent United States Professional Tournament the galleries were so incensed by Kovacs' childish proclivities they gave him a good, wet Bronx cheer with all of the fortissimo of Brooklyn bleachers.

While Kovacs whined about decisions, acted generally rambunctious, raved and ranted, the gallery continued to pour forth the unmelodious music so foreign to sacrosanct Forest Hills.

As one old-timer put it: "Gad, what a Martine sergeant could do with that bird."

Frank Kovacs had best get next to himself.

This is no time for tennis tantrums.

Twilight Racing Booms

B.C. Only Exception

By SCOTT YOUNG

TORONTO (CP)—The Canadian racing season approaches the three-quarter mark in its third full wartime season—with Vancouver providing the only dissenting evidence in general indications that the public wants racing, war or no war. . . . Vancouver's crowds and pari-mutuel takes are down considerably.

The prairie meetings boomed, with Winnipeg up 14.5 per cent in betting and about 17 per cent in attendances. . . . Ontario and Quebec racing also is drawing the mobs. . . . The answer to Vancouver's nonconformity may be proximity of the Pacific coast to immediate battle zones. . . . If enemy shells dropped a few hundred miles from Woodbine or Fort Erie the punters wouldn't be enthusiastic either.

Social note: Omar's Gift, the 37-cent filly (someone should think up a new tag one of these days), who won the Winnipeg Futurity, is eligible for Mrs. Orpen's Cup and Sauer. . . . Apparently the only factor to keep her from becoming one of the favorites is that she hasn't shown she can run a distance. . . . She may have much of the event's early speed, though. . . . But it's a long time until October. . . . One thing to favor western entries is the amount of practice they'll get on half-mile tracks this summer. . . . The Cup and Sauer will be decided at Dufferin this year because the army has controlled Long Branch since last fall. . . . Even two-year-olds can't run their best over a track full of tents.

Football Talk

Joe (Winnipeg Free Press) Ryan finds a ray of light in the outlook for Winnipeg Blue Bombers because Wally Stanowski (Toronto Maple Leafs), Bill Judza (New York Rangers) and Andy Branigan (Brooklyn Americans) are in the air force and will be training near Winnipeg in the fall. . . . All three were great junior football players. . . . Joe thinks they will turn out for football and says: "If they do, lay a lin on the Grey Cup remaining in its little grey home in the west." . . . Vancouver Grizzlies are not likely to operate this season. . . . The club lost money last year and Greg Kabat, playing coach, has taken a war service

Marathon Golf Mark

HANNIBAL, Mo. (AP)—A tired young man, 23-year-old Bob Howell of Hannibal, Mo., completed his fifth annual golfing marathon Tuesday night, setting a new personal record of 283 holes in slightly more than 25 hours on the nine-hole Mark Twain course.

Although on hand the entire 25 hours this year, young Howell lost three hours' playing time because of weather. He also lost six pounds of his normal 150, covering 75 miles and taking 1,351 strokes, an average of 42 for each nine. The course par is 34.

Happy Duster Goes To Vancouver Stable

VANCOUVER (CP)—Happy Duster, rated one of the best two-year-old prospects in western Canada, has been sold by the Whittier Stock Farms of Winnipeg to Louis Graziano of the Vancouver M. and S. Stable.

The bay filly, daughter of Brooks and Happy Day, will replace Lady Gallator, which died here last week of bronchial pneumonia. Graziano refused to disclose what price he paid for the horse.

DICKEY HURT AGAIN

NEW YORK (AP)—Bill Dickey, veteran catcher of New York Yankees, probably will be out of action for 10 days because of a torn ligament in his right shoulder, Dr. Robert E. Walsh said Tuesday. The 35-year-old backstop was hurt June 30 and aggravated the injury Monday.

Paddock a Marine

Charlie Paddock, left, once the "world's fastest human" of the cinderpath, is now a United States Marine. He's shown in San Francisco as Col. D. M. Randall swore him in as a captain.

Luck Pitching Help

Starr Drops Toughie

The secret of successful pitching sometimes seems to be luck as much as skill.

Take Tuesday in the National League. . . . Ray Starr, the lean spellbinder of Cincinnati, pitched three-hit ball and was beaten 2 to 1 by the pitiful Phils because two outfielders collided under a fly hit by the pitcher and the ball fell for a home run.

On the other hand Vern Olsen, Chicago Cubs' southpaw, was pummeled for 11 hits by New York Giants and not only escaped with his sixth straight victory but scored a shutout, 3 to 0.

Starr's misfortune came in the fifth inning just after his slugging teammates had given him a 1 to 0 lead over Frank (Rube) Melton. The 35-year-old rookie had walked catcher Benny Warren of the Phils and then Melton lifted a long fly to left centre.

Outfielders Max Marshall and Harry Craft raced for it and knocked each other to the ground. The ball rolled away for a homer and time had to be called—and stretchers, too—before the boys felt like continuing.

This resulted in Starr being charged with his fifth defeat against 12 victories and cost Cincinnati a full game's distance against Brooklyn Dodgers and St. Louis Cardinals, both of whom won.

NO CLUTCH HITTING

At Chicago the Giants got men on base in every inning and made hits in the first eight, but they never were quite able to break through Olsen for a run.

It was Olsen's sixth straight success and also his sixth of the season. He lost four straight before he started to win.

At St. Louis Mort Cooper had luck of a different sort. He was batted out of the box for the third time in succession, but the Cardinals rallied spectacularly to beat Boston Braves 7 to 5 in 11 innings and wipe out what would have been Cooper's fifth setback. Brooklyn punished Pittsburgh Pirates 5 to 1 with Whitlow Wyatt pitching three-hit ball for his 10th triumph of the year in a night game that drew 21,254 fans at Pittsburgh.

In the American League New York Yankees downed Detroit Tigers 3 to 0 on the two-hit hurling of Rookie Hank Borowy and extended their first-place margin to six games as Boston absorbed another 3 to 2 beating by St. Louis Browns.

The Yanks made only six hits off big Al Benton, but one of these was a triple by Borowy himself good for a run in the third inning and another was a two-run homer by Tom Henrich in the sixth. It was the third straight game in which the Yanks have homered and gave the champs a 3 to 1 edge in their four-game series with Detroit.

Boston was held to seven hits by Knuckleballer John Niggeling, but made the score close because two of these were home runs by Lou Finney and Oscar Judd.

COAST LEAGUE

The Portland Beavers are apparently tired of running along behind the Coast League baseball pack.

The inspiration of playing before home fans may have something to do with it, but whatever the explanation, the Beavers are making their bid to finish the season out of the cellar.

Tuesday night the Portlanders nosed out Oakland by one-run margins in two abbreviated games. The first game went seven innings and ended 3 to 2, while the second contest ended in the fifth, 8 to 7, because of the league rule that forbids starting an inning of play after 11:50.

Each of the other league games were decided by one-run margins.

The second-place Los Angeles Angels used a four-run rally in the fifth to nose out the Sacramento Solons, league pacesetters, 6 to 5. The win put the Angels within a game and a half of the Solons.

San Diego, playing at San Francisco, dropped a decision 3 to 2 as the host team took advantage of a few lucky breaks. Hollywood was kept idle by a postponement at Seattle, but the teams make up the lost game in a doubleheader tonight.

Softball Results

With Minnis hurling good ball, Douglas Tire turned back the Coach and Horses 10 to 1 Tuesday night to bolster their position at the head of the B division of the softball league.

Feature of the tiremen's offensive was Ian Lowe's home run in the seventh with one on base. Crack Esquimalt Military Hospital nine put on a six-run scoring act in the seventh to defeat the Barons 6 to 4. Lacoste was the winning hurler for the soldiers.

V.M.D.-Sailors Clash Tonight

It will be V.M.D. vs. Navy in tonight's senior ball game at Athletic Park, starting at 6:30. Clash between the first and second-place clubs is expected to attract one of the largest crowds of the season.

At the present time the shipyarders are rolling along two games in front of the bluejackets. Should the V.M.D. win tonight it will just about assure them of the number one spot.

Jack McIntyre, crack Navy southpaw, who turned back the V.M.D. in the last meeting between the two outfits, will attempt to make it two straight. He will likely be opposed on the mound by Cy Shillito, crack right hander.

Industry Aids Sport in U.S.

NEW YORK (AP)—College and professional athletics are feeling the pinch of wartime restrictions, but industrial sports teams are stepping into the breach.

Such conservative, Ivy-clad colleges as Princeton and Cornell have transferred some of their 1942 football games to larger centers of populations. Officials of the New Camden, N.J., race track, threatened with a total lack of transportation, insist the races will be run, with or without spectators. And in the deep, uncut bushes, minor baseball leagues are folding their tents and silently stealing away to wait better days.

But this doesn't necessarily mean that sport is going into a decline. All over the United States huge factories are springing up to turn out materials needed for the war. And the men who operate them agree that some play is needed. A half dozen or so former major league ball players already have been named recreation heads at various airplane plants.

RECREATION AND EXERCISE

The main task of these men is to provide recreation and exercise for workers and their families and they're giving the most attention to sports with mass appeal such as softball and bowling. But a varsity team usually is listed somewhere.

Plans already are under way for an industrial hockey league around New York to keep the game alive when and if the pro game gives up. The colleges and service teams still hold the upper hand in football. Still it has been suggested that the pros should get jobs in war plants and confine their punting and passing to weekends.

Another recent suggestion is for a shipyard boxing championship.

UPLANDS GOLF

In the mixed foursomes competition at the Uplands Golf Club Mrs. Lindsay and Mrs. Fletcher were the winners. G. Gallager, R.A.F., and C. Smith were runners-up. It was decided to stage another two-ball foursome on July 27.

Game Red Rolfe Back With Yanks

NEW YORK (AP)—The mere fact that Red Rolfe was playing third base for the Yankees out in the heat Tuesday went a long way toward explaining why the club managed by Joe McCarthy holds the world championship.

Rolfe, out all season with Colitis, still was a sick man, under weight and in no condition to play baseball. But the Yankees were desperately in need of a third baseman who even might get a hit now and then—and that was enough for Rolfe.

"I don't know how long I can hold up," he said cheerily, before Tuesday's game with Detroit, "but I'm going to stay in there as long as I can. I hit one Monday (a game-winning home run) and I might accidentally hit another."

McCarthy said it was strictly up to Red how long he remained in the lineup.

"We certainly can use him right now," he admitted. "It will help to have his bat in there for a while until Frankie Crosetti begins hitting again. There never was a gamier player than Rolfe."

It so happens that Rolfe had fully expected to be gone from the Yankee locker room before this. He had about given up the thought of ever curing his painful complaint and had been dicker for the baseball coaching job at Yale University.

Mauriello Victor

NEW YORK (AP)—Tami Mauriello, who hasn't been defeated since campaigning among the heavyweights, pounded out an eight-round decision over Tony Musto, 206½, Chicago, Tuesday night.

Mauriello, weighing 24 pounds less than his opponent, fathomed Musto's crouching style in the first frame and battered the squat midwesterner the rest of the way.

Rattle Home 11 Counters Against Oaks

If United Services don't win the Greater Victoria Box Lacrosse League championship this year a lot of people will be surprised. For the servicemen, before the popping eyes of one of the largest crowds of the season, Tuesday night, paraded a team that would send cold shivers up the spines of any squad in Canada and bounced Oakland's 25 to 16.

Everyone out there thought it would be Oakland's night, that the kids would lead the way in proving that Services could be beaten. But 'twas not so. Manager Norm Barton, who sniffs out lacrosse talent like a bloodhound, focused his glimmers of some troops that arrived in town Tuesday afternoon and from them picked three of the finest players to ever show their boxla wares in Victoria.

Two of them, Jack Williams and Archie Dixon, are from Mimico, and played with that city's Millionaires when they won the Mann Cup in 1938. The other, Ray Ogston, did more than carry water for Orrilla, and also showed class. Then to cap this three man show with a delicate soufflé, he put former coach and Richmond player, Karl Grauer, on the floor.

EASTERNERS SMART

Well, the three easterners scored 11 goals between them, and that about tells the story. They just walked around the floor, seldom exerted themselves, but every once in a while one of them mysteriously and all by himself would turn up on the Oakland's goal crease to wish goalie Jimmie Taylor a most pleasant evening, and then ruin the chummy atmosphere by scoring.

Whenever they were on the floor they would draw Oaks into their own style.

Otherwise the Oakland boys played a grand game. They had quite a bit more of the play than the score indicated, but their shooting was wild when they needed goals. On top of that, goalie Jimmy Ryan played his best game of the season. It seems that Jokers' Bill Andrews had given him a few pointers. Jimmy proved he was a good student and blocked 26 shots.

Diminutive Jimmy Taylor in the Oakland's nets was hot despite the score. He was given quite a bit more work than Ryan, and when the game was over his stops totaled 32.

Besides the aforementioned, frayed tempers and more chopping and slashing than could be found at a loggers' convention, seemed to be the order of the night. The boys played a rugged game the whole distance, and at times were just waiting for an excuse to start a comfy little brawl.

After a very tight first 10 minutes Services drew away in the dying moments of the initial quarter to take a 5 to 2 level. They outscored Oaks four goals to three in a smart second quarter in which there was little to choose between the squads.

LOTS OF PENALTIES

However, after the half-time sit-down, the servicemen got to work in earnest, and outscored Oaks eight to three in a penalty-ridden period. In that session Services got 12 minutes in penalties, Oaks 10. At one stage there were five players off the floor, and the playing surface looked as bare as the prairie near Pumphandie, Alta.

In the fourth quarter everyone ran wild, and the play was the fastest of the night, just the way Oaks had wished it had been in the three earlier periods. Each team scored eight goals.

Leading the Services was that chap Williams from Mimico with seven goals and two assists. Earl McDonald and Jackie James, with four goals apiece, followed him. Bill McCaghey led Oakland's with four goals and three assists, and was followed by Cunningham, Rhodes, Popham and Bishop with two goals each.

Brynjolfson and Brown referred.

Teams and scores follow:
United Services—Ryan, Hall 2, James 4, Wallace, Caydzen 1, McDonald 4, Bray, Urquhart 1, Andrews 1, Williams 7, Ogston 1, Dixon 3, Featherstone 1, Grauer.
Oaklands—Taylor, Cunningham

Sport Shorts From Britain

LONDON (CP)—It's green grass and a life of ease for Owen Tudor from here in. Victor in the Derby last year and the Gold Cup a few weeks ago, the course specialist has been retired to stud.

The pony is regarded as a Newmarket course specialist because a racer successful in wartime classics must be just that. All classic races, except the St. Leger, have been run at Newmarket during this war. They were all over the same course—Newmarket—in the first Great War.

Back in England for the more serious business of war is Gordon Dailley of Calgary, and Winnipeg, former member of the Wembley Monarch Hockey Club and who led England in international matches. He's a captain in the Canadian Armored Corps now.

Reductions in the annual subscriptions of first and second division clubs resulted in the Scottish Football League losing approximately $820 on the year, it was stated at the annual meeting. The new season starts Aug. 8. . . . The Scottish Ice Hockey Association turned over $710 to the R.A.F. benevolent fund from a recent charity hockey tour.

PIGEON RACING

The Victoria and District Racing Pigeon Club held its first young bird race of the season over the week-end, from Chilliwack, an airline distance of 80 miles. There were 128 birds, representing 13 lofts, liberated. With exceptionally fine weather, the birds made good time.

The positions and velocities follow:

	Yards Per Minute
S. Knott	730.31
J. McNall	701.18
B. Woolley	697.5
J. Boyle	675.8
W. Blackstock	662.4
W. R. Tait	662.50
W. Cox	583.06
H. Barrie	582.1
Knowles Bros.	581.48
A. Hardy	580.91
A. Renfrew	584.2
J. Bowditch	603.3
W. McPherson	603.3

W. Blackstock won the pool.

The next race will also be from Chilliwack. Birds will be basketed at 7.15, Friday, at the club headquarters, 345 Pandora Avenue.

Premier Hart Announces

B.C. Today Reduces Debt by $3,824,000

British Columbia now enjoys a decrease of $3,824,000 in its gross debt and refunding operations of $16,336,000 have enabled an interest reduction of $398,440 annually, Premier John Hart said today in announcing Pacific Great Eastern Railway maturity and refunding.

Mr. Hart gave a brief financial survey of the province's relations with the railroad which is now springing into prominence as a valuable link between the United States and Alaska.

The Premier, who, as Minister of Finance, has had charge of financing the P.G.E. for many years, recalled today that the B.C. government in 1912 guaranteed securities issued, or to be issued, by the Pacific Great Eastern Railway Co. to the extent of $35,000 a mile for 450 miles of line. Two years later, in 1914, the guarantee was increased to $42,000 a mile to cover the total mileage of the railway—480 miles. Thus, the total guarantee of the province, in connection with the P.G.E., amounted to $20,160,000, and stock for the whole amount was, in time, duly issued.

LIABILITIES

The liabilities of the railway were taken over by the government Feb. 22, 1918. Included in the liabilities was a note, issued by the company on Dec. 15, 1914, to the Union Bank of Canada, amounting to $4,828,000, against which had been pledged a portion of the guaranteed stock amounting to $5,925,195. At that time the stock of the railway had a market value of $68 per 100, and the government of the province deemed it inadvisable to permit the sale, at that price, of that portion so pledged.

Arrangements were made to transfer the note from the Union Bank to the Canadian Bank of Commerce with the same underlying security and in 1920, under authority of the "P.G.E. Note Payment Act of 1920" the government, anticipating a market recovery, sold $4,828,000 of its own securities on a five-year 6 per cent basis to repay the note, and took over as collateral the amount of stock that had been formerly pledged to the bank.

On May 20, 1925, $5,925,195 of stock held by the province as collateral was converted into bonds and sold at $92.50 per 100 and the proceeds were applied to pay the bonds sold by the province, plus the interest thereon.

It was not until 1936 that the guaranteed stock and bonds of the Pacific Great Eastern Railway were accepted as a direct obligation in the books of the province, although the government had operated the railway since 1918.

The whole of the $20,160,000 guaranteed by the province became due and payable July 15, 1942. A portion of this amount was covered by sinking funds; the balance, however, had to be refunded. In order to secure the net proceeds required to repay that portion not covered by sinking funds, the government sold, on the open market, its own direct obligations to the extent of $15,700,000 on a 20-year serial basis, with interest ranging from 2 per cent to 3½ per cent and subsequently sold a further amount of $636,000, 20-year sinking fund debentures at a rate of 3½ per cent with the result that, instead of the original indebtedness of $20,160,000 which, at 4½ per cent, required an annual interest outlay of $907,200, there are now outstanding direct obligations of the province amounting to $16,336,000 which, at an average of 3.114 per cent, require an interest outlay of $508,760.

BIG REDUCTIONS

Thus, there has been accomplished a reduction in the gross debt of $3,824,000 and a reduction in interest charges of $398,440 annually. Furthermore the terms of the new serial issues will be reflected by annual reductions of both principal and interest during the next 20 years.

The province secured for these new issues the lowest domestic interest rate in its history and the receptivity of the market and the high standing of the province's credit was evidenced by the fact that oversubscriptions by investors necessitated the closing of the books within a few hours after their opening.

Conservatives To Discuss Leadership

OTTAWA (CP)—Conservative House Leader Hanson considers himself "duty bound" to continue leading the official opposition until Rt. Hon. Arthur Meighen announces his plans, the Canadian Press has been informed.

Chosen national Conservative leader last fall, Mr. Meighen's attempt to win a seat in the House of Commons and take over leadership was unsuccessful and Mr. Hanson has continued to lead the Conservatives, a task which he undertook following the general election of 1940.

The Conservatives in the Commons are awaiting a decision from Mr. Meighen as to whether he is willing to run again for Parliament or wishes to drop out of the leadership, one Conservative spokesman said.

STATEMENT SOON
Mr. Hanson has frequently expressed the desire to be relieved of the House leadership at the end of this session, which might mean when the House adjourns, possibly July 25, or when it prorogues in the fall. In either case the Conservative members will discuss the future of the party in a caucus before adjournment, it is believed.

While it was made clear that Mr. Hanson is prepared to carry on until Mr. Meighen has spoken, the feeling seemed to be that some decision bearing on future leadership would be made soon.

Howard C. Green, member for Vancouver South, and J. G. Diefenbaker, member for Lake Centre, Sask., have been spoken of as likely candidates for leadership should the post become open.

CABINET CHANGES?
Meanwhile Conservatives persist in predicting there will be a shake-up in the cabinet when the bill to amend the National Resources Mobilization Act is in committee, probably early next week, when pressure will be put on the government to state whether it expects to bring in conscription for overseas service and if so, when.

While there has been no outward indication that there is lack of agreement in the cabinet on the matter, Conservatives continue to forecast that Defence

They'll Do It Every Time

Minister Ralston, Navy Minister Macdonald and Finance Minister Mackenzie King's undertaking that before conscription for overseas is actually enforced his government will come back to the House for a vote of confidence. Should this develop it would, of course, have a bearing on the solution of the Conservative leadership problem.

Gallup Poll

One-third of Voters Do Not Know Who Their Member at Ottawa Is

TORONTO — The policeman on the beat was embarrassed. He had just been approached by a Gallup Poll interviewer and asked this question:

"Do you happen to know the name of your local member of Parliament in Ottawa?"

The policeman did not know, and, being used to knowing all the answers, was embarrassed. The fact that, according to the final returns of this survey by the Canadian Institute of Public Opinion, almost exactly one-third of the voting population of this country does not know the name of the man who represents them in Ottawa, might have made the policeman feel a little better.

Moreover, the fact that Canadian citizens did better on this test than their good neighbors in the United States, might have given him some grounds for national, if not personal, pride.

Here is the actual score in a cross-country test aimed at finding out just how much knowledge Canadians have as to the identity of their M.P. The second column gives the results of a survey made by the affiliated American Institute of Public Opinion, in which the U.S. public was asked to name its congressman:

	Canada	U.S.
Correct	67%	50%
Incorrect	33%	50%

The "incorrect" group includes those who were unable to give any name, as well as those who gave the wrong name.

VOTER KNOWS BEST

Of course, if a man is in the habit of using his vote at election time, he usually has a better idea of the identity of his representative than a stay-at-home. There is, therefore, a sharp contrast between the score turned in by those who voted in the 1940 elections and those who did not:

	Voted	Didn't
Correct	74%	44%
Incorrect	26%	56%

Perhaps because the Liberal Party won a majority in 1940, and if a man's candidate is successful, he is more likely to remember his name than the name of a man for whom he didn't vote, the Liberals of Canada, 77 per cent of whom gave the right answer made a slightly better showing than did the Conservatives, of whom 72 per cent knew the right answer.

There may be another reason for this. The survey shows that residents of Quebec province have a much better idea who their Ottawa representative is than have residents of other provinces.

	Quebec	Canada
Correct	77%	64%

Ontario's showing is not good, with only 54 per cent of the voters in that province giving their member's name correctly.

As in United States, the survey indicated that the farmer and small-town resident had a better score than the city voter.

Everyone, whether or not they knew the actual name of their candidate did better when it came to naming the political party to which he belonged. Of all those interviewed, 71 per cent named the correct political group to which their M.P. belonged. Of those who knew his name, 91 per cent also knew his party. Of those who didn't know his name, only 27 per cent knew the right party.

Kaslo Booms Once More As 1,000 Japs Arrive

By H. M. PATERSON

KASLO (CP) — Kaslo, lovely little city nestling among the hills on the shores of Kootenay Lake, has been stirred into feverish activity by the arrival of 1,000 Japanese from the coastal defence zone.

But the residents—some 500 in number—frown on any loose talk about "ghost towns." They make it quite clear that Kaslo, 34 miles northeast of Nelson, is not and never has been a "ghost town."

FRUIT GROWN

Like most mining towns, it has had its ups and downs, dwindling from a boom time population peak of 2,500, but the district is not wholly dependent upon mining operations. Citizens point with pride to the fact that a great deal of fruit is grown—namely the famed Kaslo cherry—and that the scenic beauties of the countryside have attracted increasingly large numbers of tourists.

Since the arrival of the Japanese the place has become a hive of industry. Every available building has been taken over by the British Columbia Security Commission and living quarters are being made available to the newcomers as quickly as repairs can be made.

At present there is some overcrowding, but it is expected that this problem will be solved within the next couple of weeks. All men, young and old, are doing

About 50 "casualties" and three "fires" have been planned, Mr. Musgrave said. The "incidents" will be spaced at 15-minute intervals to give time for thought and criticism.

It is intended, Mr. Musgrave said, to follow the "casualties" their part by working on jobs assigned to them by the commission.

The Japanese have made a good impression on officials and the residents by their industry and their willingness to cooperate in every way possible. More than 20 have volunteered as members of the fire brigade.

Tripling of the population has not added to the burden of the one provincial police constable, who carries on his regular duties without assistance.

Kaslo has an excellent hospital and a clinic is being established in the Masonic Temple. A Japanese dentist, eye specialist and dietician are in residence.

WOMEN WORK

Japanese women are eager to work for the Red Cross, and nearly all own sewing machines. Some of the younger women are employed as domestics, and many of 'teen age will be busy in cherry orchards during the next few weeks.

Most of the newcomers are adherents of the United Church, Rev. K. Shimizu, formerly minister at Powell Street Vancouver United Church, holds services here every Sunday.

Kindergarten classes, held in city park, have become so popular with children and parents that they are conducted in two shifts. Miss S. Tait and Miss N. Sadler, United Church missionaries, teach the classes.

Kay Oda and a dozen or so high school graduates have organized classes for those in grades one to six, and junior high school grades are to start shortly.

Baseball is the favorite recreation for the younger Japanese, but tennis, softball and other games are also popular.

ORTIZ, ARGENTINA EX-PRESIDENT, DIES

BUENOS AIRES (AP) — Former President Roberto M. Ortiz of Argentina, who resigned his post June 24 after being inactive for nearly two years because of ill-health and near blindness, died today.

Ortiz, who was 66, had suffered from diabetes for several years and his condition became serious Tuesday after an attack of bronchial pneumonia. His condition was further complicated by a kidney ailment, it was said.

Ortiz, who was 36, had suffered from diabetes for several years and his condition became serious Tuesday after an attack of bronchial pneumonia. His condition was further complicated by a kidney ailment, it was said.

At the time of his resignation he announced his "last hope was crushed" and that he was leaving office because of "unfavorable conclusions regarding my health which have just been reached by my physician."

On his resignation Vice-President Castillo, who had been acting President, was elected President by Congress.

Roberto M. Ortiz, who rose from the post of city councilman in Buenos Aires to become his country's 18th President, was forced to retire from active administration of his office at a time when his faith in democracy and his abhorrence of aggression seemed destined to lead Argentina on a path far different from the present course of "prudent neutrality."

Soon after his illness forced him into an inactive role July 4, 1940, he said in an interview that President Roosevelt's re-election to a third term was "a tonic for those of us in America who want the democratic process and international understanding to survive."

Crosby Trend Hurting Music

"Musically we are living in a wishy-washy age. Such a man as Bing Crosby is partly responsible for this," R. T. Bevan, music instructor and speech training expert at the Saskatchewan Provincial Normal School told teacher-students at Victoria's Summer School today.

"Imagine listening to crooning when you can listen to such a song as 'Who Is Sylvia,'" he added. "We have to combat the radio, which, in some things, is one of the biggest curses in the world—although it is also one of the most marvelous things—because it has helped to mutilate the taste of babies before they are born."

His address, covering advice and demonstration of the way to teach songs to schoolchildren, emphasized an appeal to teachers to let the children, from the very beginning, learn to stand on their own feet in the classroom and sing. If they were taught to love the song they would learn to sing, he said.

With the recording "Strawberry Fair," Mr. Bevan demonstrated the manner in which a song could be taught so it became interesting and enjoyable to the child. The song should be such that children would be really enthusiastic about it, he said. Life, Mr. Bevan commented, was made up of two things, the necessary and the "if-we-like." Music, like the bowl of flowers on the table was one of the "if-we-likes."

Every pupil had it in him to pursue beauty, truth and goodness, the lecturer said as he urged teachers to see to it they chose songs which were good, were sung or played by a good artist with a good instrument.

NO COMPULSION

The secret of teaching singing lay in letting the child sing, not making him sing, he said. By singing, not through academic procedure nor instruction in theory should music be taught in schools, he said.

It was useless to teach a child the definition of "andantino" if the child had never heard that tempo. "Don't teach theory—let it come up as it is wanted," he said, noting it had taken him 10 years to discourage theory examinations in Saskatchewan schools. If the teacher had not the voice to teach children through singing, he or she could overcome that difficulty by playing songs on the school gramophone, he said, illustrating the procedure with "Strawberry Fair," which he had the audience sing, line by line, and then follow by rhythmic handclapping.

Wait Developments On Wartime Housing

Pending further developments expected in the near future, Mayor Andrew McGavin today declined to give any statement on Tuesday's joint meeting of the city war emergency board and lands committee on the Wartime Housing Ltd. issue.

Any announcement at present would be premature and might prejudice arrangements now under way, the mayor said. The two committees had been asked to study suggestions which might lead to the introduction and passage of another by-law making property available in the James Bay area for 100 dwellings for V.M.D. workers.

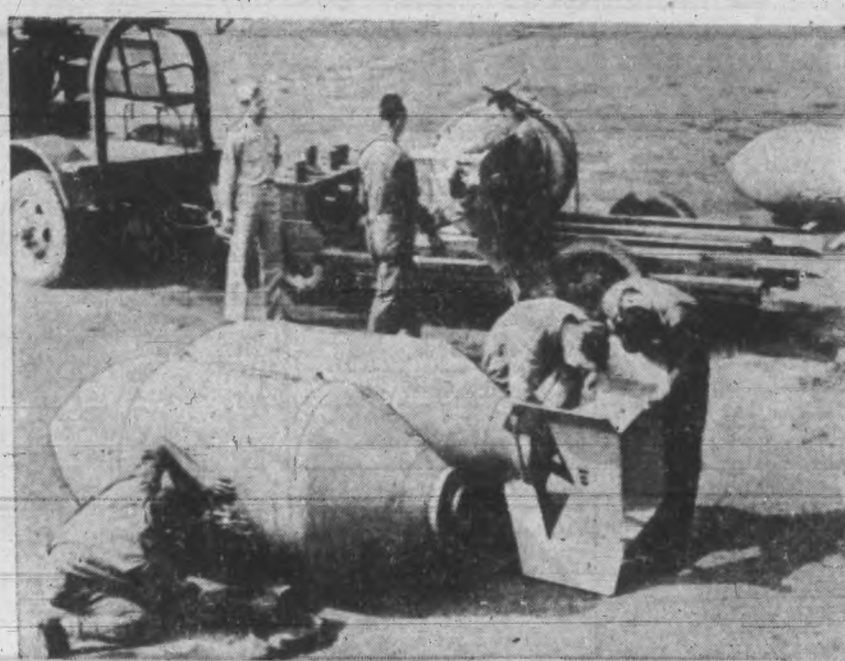

While city leaders remained silent on the question here, New Westminster announced plans for the immediate construction of 60 residences by Wartime Housing Ltd. to relieve the housing shortage in that city. The project, approved by the New Westminster council, also calls for erection of a boarding house for single men.

Would Send Japs Home

Post No. 1, Native Sons of British Columbia, at a monthly meeting Tuesday night endorsed a plan for postwar rehabilitation whereby all Japanese from British Columbia would be repatriated through opening avenues of work for returned men. The post said employment would then be offered in fishing, mining, lumbering and farming for returned men.

With the permission of the Esquimalt School Board, the post will conduct an essay contest among Esquimalt schoolchildren. Three prizes will be offered for the best essays on historical highlights of Esquimalt. Hugh Creelman, principal, is co-operating to make the contest a success.

It is the intention of the post to offer prizes in other municipalities and districts of Greater Victoria if enough students are interested.

Members were unanimous to do everything in their power to prevent the granting of a concession for the serving of refreshments in Beacon Hill Park. The post was told there was a rumor that the City Council was intending to rent a concession for this purpose.

Gas Turbine Engine Next Airplane Surprise?

By WATSON DAVIS

CAMBRIDGE, Mass.—Three aeronautical developments would upset the present more or less new military aviation race throughout the world—a successful gas turbine engine for airplanes, a practical rocket plane and the realization of an airplane wing structure that would prevent the air becoming turbulent as it flows over it.

Dr. Jerome C. Hunsaker, Massachusetts Institute of Technology aeronautical engineer and chairman of the government National Advisory Committee for Aeronautics, in talking to the Harvard War Institute listed these as the three possible developments that might with some rapidity spring a surprise.

It is known that engineers throughout the world have been working, attempting to achieve these objectives.

A gas turbine would be an escape from the very real task of lubricating ordinary internal combustion engines at very high temperatures, now a limit to efficient operation. Present engines waste a third of the gasoline's power in

CITY LICENSES DUE THURSDAY

Approximately 2,000 city trades licenses, payable half-yearly, fall due Thursday, the trades license collector announced today.

They range from the $5 charged boot and shoe repair shops which employ only one man, to the $600 paid by some banks here. In all, revenue of approximately $55,000 is expected from the licenses.

The city engineer's department, which has experienced some difficulty in securing supplies, was confronted with another large order of red tape today. Under instructions it has received from the office of steel controller, Department of Munitions and Supply, it now has to apply for permits to lay pipe—it has already secured. Permits were sought today for an eight-inch main for the Dominion government drydock at Esquimalt and for another main of similar dimensions to supply the V.M.D. on Huron Street. In both cases the required pipe is lying on top of the ground at the respective locations.

A permit for a $2,400 three-room home on 2734 Belmont Avenue was issued by the city building inspector's department today. A permit for $400 to convert the garage at 731 Flagard Street into Chinese living quarters is also issued.

The city water board will meet Friday at 10.

DR. BRUCE ASKS WHY SIFTON QUIT

OTTAWA (CP)—Dr. H. A. Bruce, Con., Toronto-Parkdale, today placed on the House of Commons order paper an inquiry as to whether the recent resignation of Victor Sifton, master-general of ordnance, was "due to any difference of opinion between him and the Minister of Munitions and Supply (Hon. C. D. Howe)."

"If so," asks Dr. Bruce, "did it have anything to do with the designs or production of tanks?"

In another query, Dr. Bruce asks whether the three types of armored fighting vehicles—"the scout car, the armored car and the reconnaissance car"—are "in production and, if not, why not." Dr. Bruce also asks whether there have been any defects in design or performance in the three vehicles and whether the average thickness of armor is the same as found on corresponding German armored fighting vehicles. He also seeks information on whether the fire power, armament, durability and reparability are equal to the Nazi machines.

Dr. Bruce asks if the factory producing the Valentine tank is at present shut down for changes of design, and whether the "Ram" tank is in full production.

"Is the armor of these vehicles sufficiently heavy to withstand guns?" he asks.

He also questions whether:

Oak Bay-Plaza

Book Farce Frolic

Revealing a brilliant understanding of the fine art of farce and frolic, Marlene Dietrich and Fred MacMurray are co-starred in Columbia's "The Lady Is Willing," a merry bit of cinema madness coming to the Oak Bay and Plaza Theatres tomorrow.

Produced and directed in swift, saucy tempo by Mitchell Leisen, "The Lady Is Willing" includes in its top-flight cast such other well-known cinema personalities as Aline Mac-
Mahon, Stanley Ridges, Roger Clark and Arline Judge. "The Lady Is Willing" introduces, as well as a new star, a seven-months' old whose photogenic appeal has already won him the Hollywood accolade of "wonder baby." This Baby Corey has what it takes, and it takes plenty to steal—as he several times does!—a scene from the glamorous, delightful
Miss Dietrich.

York to Show
Romantic Comedy

An expensive addition to the cast of "It Started With Eve," because of the character she plays, was Catharine Doucet.

The popular character actress is seen with co-stars Deanna
Durbin and Charles Laughton in Universal's romantic comedy, playing at the York Theatre tomorrow.

Miss Doucet portrays Margaret Tallichet's mother and Robert Cummings' prospective mother-in-law—until Miss Durbin enters his life.

Her role required Miss Doucet to twirl a string of pearls whenever she became upset, which was frequently. Despite the fact that the pearls were strung on wire instead of string, Miss Doucet broke more than a dozen strands before the filming was completed.

Directed by Henry Koster, "It Started With Eve" presents Miss Durbin as a hatcheck girl who is erroneously introduced into a multi-millionaire's home as his son's fiancée.

Laughton portrays the old man, and other members of the cast include Guy Kibbee and Charles Coleman. Guy Pasternak was producer.

'Song of Islands'

To Show at Atlas

Imagine blonde, lissom Betty Grable being made love to by handsome Vic Mature in a South Sea island setting, and you will get some idea of the treat in store for moviegoers when they see 20th Century-Fox's Technicolor musical "Song of the Islands," which opens at the Atlas
Theatre tomorrow.

Filed under the aegis of ace director Walter Lang, this latest musical adventure into the lazy, carefree life of the South Seas, offers practically everything in the way of top screen entertainment.

With the rotund Jack Oakie thanking the comedy, assisted by Thomas Mitchell and George Barber, the film takes us to a small outpost of the Pacific where Mitchell and his daughter, Betty Grable, are striving to keep the island unspoiled from the encroachments of civilization.

Tycoon George Barrie sends his son, played by Vic Mature, down to the island to take care of the cattle ranch which he owns. Vic's side-kick, Jackie Oakie, goes along for laughs.

Upper Canada Has Fine War Record

Since 1939 well over 600 old boys of Upper Canada College have joined the navy, the army and the air force, and up to May, 1942, 22 old boys had given their lives on active service. Eleven masters have enlisted.

From the school itself many
last two years under the arrangements made by the Department of Education to work on farms, in factories and in other types of war work. The Old Boys' Association has established a war-chest to provide funds for sending old boys on active service overseas, or who are prisoners of war. This fund is rising steadily.

Other kinds of war activity in the school include the work of a boys' salvage committee fully organized to collect and turn in all forms of scrap, a special self-denial campaign for the war chest, when boys under their own direction made a genuine effort to cut seriously into their savings and pocket money for that purpose, and a steady education of the boys through posters, pamphlet material and special announcements.

Supplementing the military training given in the cadet battalion over 300 strong, a series of special classes in basic military studies have been carried on throughout the year in map reading, military law, first aid and signalling. These are conducted by masters, some of whom, the mathematicians, have also given night classes in mathematics to the R.C.A.F. at the Manning Pool.

The college has also had attending it a large number, at one time nearly 100, of English evacuee schoolboys, and a substantial financial burden has been willingly assumed to accommodate these visitors.

A record of the war service of all old boys has now been opened and the Old Boys' Association is asking through notices inserted in the newspapers to advise the secretary of the association at the college of their unit, rank, promotions and other particulars of service.

Dorothy Dix:

His Royal Highness, the Baby, Can Disrupt a Household

It is undoubtedly true that in many homes a baby in the house is a wellspring of joy, but it is equally true that in many other homes a baby is the first aid to divorce and responsible for more alienation of the affections between husbands and wives than any other cause. For it appears that babies can not only be bundles from Heaven, but little cans of TNT that can blow a marriage to Kingdom Come if their parents do not know how to handle them.

The average marriage is a long drawn-out honeymoon until the first baby arrives. Everything is ple. The husband and wife play around together and she dolls herself up to look good to him. She tries to be entertaining and amusing and she shows him in every way that he is the cock of the walk.

Then Junior appears upon the scene and everything is changed. With one wave of his pink fist he has knocked Papa off of his throne. He is the new head-of-the-house in whose presence everyone must walk softly and speak in whispers. The wife has no time for husband now. Her entire attention is concentrated on the baby. It is the baby she flatters and cajoles. It is the baby to whom she gives all of her caresses and petting.

The husband's nose has been put out of joint by a toothless infant that looks like a cross between a cream cheese and a lobster, and when he perceives that he is of no interest whatever to his wife except as a purveyor to the baby; that she would rather stay at home and watch it breathe than to go out with him to any place of amusement; and that she is more entertained by the baby's google-dego than by his intelligent explanation about how the war can be won, it makes him plenty sore, and jealous, and bored.

And, unless he is of the strongly paternal type, he goes grouchy and settles down into one of the men who pass into the silence in their own homes, or else he hunts up some other woman to hold his hand while his wife is holding the baby's.

Now whether this metamorphosis of a woman from being all wife into being all mother can be avoided is difficult to say. A correspondent to this column says it can't be done unless there is money enough to hire a competent entourage to care for his majesty, the baby. She writes: "Between feeding, bathing, dressing and undressing a baby—not to mention doing her regular work—a woman has precious little time for pampering her husband, or for curling her hair, or keeping up with current events. There is something to be done for a baby every minute, and if Mother sits down for a second's rest she can always get right up and change him. She keeps on the go from dawn till dark, and at night with the baby's crib beside her she practically never gets a good night's rest. No wonder she is tired and cross most of the time. The marvel is that when Friend Husband starts knocking her looks and disposition she doesn't throw the baby's nursery chair at his head."

MEN SHOULD BE PATIENT
All of which is gospel truth, and it does suggest that men should be more patient and forbearing with their wives when they are going through the baby's wrestling ordeal, and that they should not expect the woman who has been up half the night with a fretful infant to appear at breakfast gay and fresh and smiling and glamorous. Well they know that taking care of Junior for half a day reduces them to a frazzle, and they should pin a hero's medal on the breast of the Little Woman who stands it, day after day.

But the trouble is that while the wife is devoting herself to her babies and neglecting her husband, he is so apt to get lost, strayed or stolen, and how she is to prevent that under the circumstances, goodness only knows.

Perhaps it would help if men would remember that a father is just as much a father as a mother is a mother, and would do their share of perambulator pushing and walking—the cooie at night. Or perhaps there is no solution of the problem. It is just one of those things that make being a woman a tragic and pathetic thing.

WIFE DOMINATION

Dear Miss Dix—What do you think of a man who is so dominated by his wife that he didn't even send a greeting card to his 69-year-old mother on Mother's Day? The wife happens to be peeved with the mother over something that was her own fault.

S. L. ANSWER: I think a man who lets his wife separate him from a good mother is so weak and craven and spineless that he doesn't deserve to be called a man at all. You could despise him if you didn't pity him because you know how he suffers under his wife's tyrannies.

Clay Molds Are Used In Making Church Bells

When did bells first begin to ring?

That question has been something of a puzzle. Years ago the claim was made that Bishop Paulinus was the first to use bells on a church in Italy about 1,500 years ago. Some persons have supposed that bells were not known before the time of Christ.

The largest and most famous bells are those made for churches. Almost always they are of bronze, a "alloy" of copper and tin. For hundreds of years, church bells have been cast in much the same way. A "bell core" of baked clay, or of bricks covered with clay, is made. Then an outer mold of clay is prepared. The molten bronze is poured into the space between the two molds, where it is allowed to cool. Then the molds are removed.

Molten metal is poured into the space of the outer mold and the inner mold, called "bell core."

Many proofs have been found however, that bells were used long before the Christian faith spread over Europe. Little bells, looking very much like modern sleigh bells, seems to have been rung in ancient Egypt, during the feast of the goddess Isis.

A century ago a British traveler grew interested in ruins he saw beside the Tigris River. He believed they were the remains

Cemetery, Courthouse To Be Preserved

Barkerville's famous old cemetery, which has been falling to ruin in recent years, and the old Court House at nearby Richfield will be preserved, Premier John Hart said today.

The Public Works Department will be instructed to repair tombstones and fence the cemetery and the court house so that future generations may know something of pioneer days in that picturesque part of the province.

Buried in the Barkerville Cemetery is Tom Pattullo, an uncle of former Premier T. D. Pattullo.

The matter came up for discussion at Tuesday's meeting of the Executive Council when Public Works Minister R. W. Bruhn reported to the cabinet that he found the cemetery and court house in decay during a recent visit to the north.

One ounce of gold may be drawn into 1½ miles of wire.

Sooke Doctor Named Health Officer

Dr. John Brown of Sooke has been appointed medical health officer for the area between and including View Royal, Langford and Colwood and school health inspector for Langford and Colwood schools.

Dr. L. S. Chipperfield of Port Coquitlam has been appointed medical health officer for the unorganized area immediately outside Port Coquitlam, including Boys' Industrial Home, Essondale Mental Hospital and school health inspector for Essondale school.

George Waldron Edwards of Galena has been appointed a justice of the peace.

George A. Grant, police magistrate for Burnaby, has been appointed small debts court magistrate for the same district, in place of the late G. Gillies. Herbert Ashby of Bralorne, stipendiary magistrate for County of Cariboo, has been named small debts court magistrate for that area of the county between Bridge River watershed and its tributaries about the mouth of Tyaughton Creek.

Pte. T. L. Goshay, a soldier, told police Monday night at 10:15 that he had been struck by an unidentified Ford coupe at View and Vancouver Streets which did not stop. He suffered slight injuries to one arm and was removed to the Military Hospital.

U.S. Dairymen Supply Britain

How the United States is helping Britain by sending great supplies of powdered milk was told by G. H. Benckendorf of Modesto, California, in an interview at the Empress Hotel, Tuesday afternoon, while he was waiting for the Seattle boat.

Mr. Benckendorf is an expert on dairy products. He is a member of the Dairy Advisory Committee to the United States War Production Board, general manager of the Milk Producers' Association of central California, and former professor of dairying and animal husbandry at the University of Wisconsin.

Mr. Benckendorf was passing through Victoria en route to his home from Washington, D.C.; Montreal and Toronto, when he took time off to tell how U.S. dairymen are helping Britain win the war.

The company Mr. Benckendorf heads is one of the largest firms producing evaporated and powdered milk.

Specifically how much milk he was sending to Britain.

In 1941 it was arranged for the U.S. to send 15,000,000 cases of evaporated milk to Britain under the lease-lend, he said. The government, afraid the milk would not be available, and deeming it desirable to increase dairy production, raised prices, he said, with the result 25,000,000 cases of evaporated milk were available for Britain.

SAVES SHIPPING SPACE

This year, Mr. Benckendorf said, the government was stimulating production of powdered milk to send to Britain, because, while 50 pounds of evaporated milk have the food value of 100 pounds of raw milk, 100 pounds of skim milk can be reduced to nine pounds as a powder. The result is a tremendous saving of shipping space.

The powdered skim milk is shipped in 200-pound barrels. When water is added, a barrel produces 2,500 pounds of milk. While not containing the butterfat in whole or evaporated milk, the powder milk does contain the vitamins and minerals that are necessary in England.

Then, too, the powdered milk can be shipped in wooden barrels instead of tin cans, which are no longer available in quantities they used to be.

Mr. Benckendorf said whole milk could be powdered successfully, and the powdered whole milk has been proven just as nutritious as the raw milk. There is only one problem. Powdered whole milk will not keep very well.

Evaporated milk in cans, of course, will keep indefinitely. Powdered skim milk will keep for many months if the temperature is constant. But the protein in powdered whole milk breaks down when it comes in contact with the air for six months, especially in the varying temperatures the product is subject to in shipment to Britain.

STORAGE METHODS

U.S. chemists, Mr. Benckendorf said, are working now to perfect a method to store powdered whole milk successfully. He said they were trying to put the powdered milk in 50-pound tin cans and expel all the oxygen by introducing an inactive gas.

"Personally, I think they may be able to work it out," he said.

Mr. Benckendorf can quote for hours statistics about the California dairy industry, in particular, and the U.S. dairy industry in general.

Thus his own plant produces 800,000 pounds of powdered skim milk a day in a complicated stainless-steel machine 30 feet in diameter and 50 feet high, which sprays at 6,000 pounds pressure liquid milk into a whirling stream of hot air at the top, and powdered milk comes out at the bottom. The machine cost $50,000, he said.

Mr. Benckendorf's factory handles 600,000 pounds of milk a day.

Before the war the U.S. produced only 110,000,000 pounds of milk. Now production is at 125,000,000 pounds, he said.

NEW RENT ORDERS CURB LANDLORDS

It is now possible for every person renting any type of accommodation for one month or more to find out the maximum rental and what services are provided by the landlord, according to J. S. Maguire, regional rentals administration officer, Wartime Prices and Trade Board.

Under Board Order 108, the landlord must give the tenant a signed statement on a form provided by the rentals administration and known as RC 40. He must also forward a copy to the nearest regional rentals office within 10 days whenever a new lease or a renewal of a release for any commercial or housing accommodation is made involving a change in tenant, a change in rental, a change in the services or accommodation supplied by the landlord, or for premises which have been untenanted for some time.

The form must be filled in whether the lease is written or oral. It is not required from landlords of boarding or lodging houses, where there are three or more guests in addition to the members of the operator's family, or by landlords renting for less than one month. Special provision is made for them under another section of Order 108.

Form RC 40 lists not only the maximum rental on the basic date, but also gives a statement of services which were supplied at that time, and those being given under the lease.

In this way the public is given protection against an illegal advance in rent by reason of a cut in the services provided.

Forms may be secured from the regional rentals office, or from any regional or subregional office of the board.

Work clothes need more than ordinary washing . . .

You must have Sunlight's "EXTRA-SOAPINESS"
for those extra-dirty parts

IT'S true of every family's wash that the garments in it are worse soiled in some parts than others. The general "all over" soiling, naturally, is easy to remove—any good soap will do it. But for those extra dirty parts where the dirt is rubbed right into the fabric you need Sunlight's "extra-soapiness".

Because of Sunlight's wonderful "extra-soapiness" you can get right at the dirt. No hard rubbing—just a touch leaves a thin film of Sunlight in contact with the dirt—and this thin film is sufficient to loosen every speck of grime and leave the garment spotlessly fresh and clean.

Once you've tried the Sunlight method you'll want to use it always—for laundry and household cleaning. Sunlight is all-pure soap—safe for everything you wash, mild and gentle to your hands, too.

You can't do without
